Confidence Put in President; McCarthy Scored

Stevens Quits His Army Post, Brucker Is Nominated by Ike

Resignation Comes Year Following Spectacular Clash With McCarthy on Subversion and Schine Favoritism

Washington, June 22 (AP) — Robert T. Stevens resigned today as secretary of the army and President Eisenhower nominated Wilber M. Brucker, general counsel of the Defense Department, to succeed him.

Stevens gave "compelling personal considerations" as his reason for quitting. He was a principal in last year's row between Sen. McCarthy (R.-Wis.) and top Pentagon officials, but neither he nor Eisenhower, who accepted the resignation today, made any reference to that spectacular event.

BRUCKER, a former governor of Michigan, has been general counsel at the Pentagon since April, 1954. He will be 61 tomorrow. His home is in Detroit.

The White House announced Stevens' resignation and made public a letter in which the President accepted "with deep regret" just before Eisenhower left on a six-day tour of New England.

Stevens will leave the Pentagon about the end of July. He told Eisenhower he would work out the precise date with Secretary of Defense Wilson.

WILSON, Stevens and Brucker drove with the President from the White House to the airport.

Stevens' resignation came a year after his spectacular clash with McCarthy over the question of alleged subversion in the army and of asserted favored treatment for a one-time McCarthy Aide, Pvt. G. David Schine.

PREVIOUSLY the army's general counsel, John G. Adams, quit his post in the aftermath of the hearings and so did McCarthy's top aide, Roy M. Cohn. Both Cohn and Adams were principals in the 1954 dispute.

Brucker was governor of Michigan from January, 1931, to the end of December, 1932. Previously he was Michigan's attorney general, and from 1923 to 1937 was prosecuting attorney of Michigan's Saginaw county.

A native of Saginaw, Brucker is a Republican. So is Stevens.

IN HIS LETTER of resignation Stevens said he first brought to the attention of the President "a few weeks ago" the personal considerations he said have dictated his decision to resign.

"I have conferred with Mr.

Senator Is Accused of Barging In

Resolution Is Called Harmful

Washington, June 22 (AP)—The Senate Foreign Relations Committee today unanimously expressed "complete confidence" that President Eisenhower will express the views of the American people and negotiate successfully at the coming Big Four meeting.

In a report to the Senate, the committee urged it to reject a resolution by Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) aimed at forcing the Big Four to discuss the question of Soviet satellites. It said McCarthy's resolution "would be meaningless if not actually harmful."

THE REPORT added:

". . . . It (the resolution) would have the effect of expressing a lack of confidence in the President at a critical juncture in world history when American unity in foreign affairs is particularly important."

All but one of the 15 committee members signed the report. The 15th, Sen. Langer (R-N.D.), was not on hand for yesterday's 14-0 vote recommending that the resolution be rejected by the Senate.

Leaders aimed for a Senate vote by nightfall. All signs pointed to a thumping rejection of the resolution which would amount in effect to a rebuke to McCarthy for what Sen. Barkley (D-Ky.) termed the attempt to "barge in on" the President.

COMMITTEE members generally agreed adoption of the resolution might tend to tie President Eisenhower's hands in the talks with the premiers of Great Britain, France and Russia due to open July 18 at Geneva.

Sen. Barkley (D-Ky), a member, said approval of the resolution would leave Eisenhower "with both hands tied behind his back and his tongue locked in his teeth."

Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, the majority leader, denounced the resolution as an effort to "place a loaded gun at the President's temple." The Republican leader, Sen. Knowland of California, told McCarthy he was seeking to intrude on "an executive function." McCarthy replied that the Senate

AS DIPLOMATIC WORDS WERE SPOKEN—Remarks by U. S. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, right, were holding the attention of Russian Foreign Minister V. M. Urges Time Extension For Parley

Diplomats See Propaganda Move

San Francisco, June 22 (AP)—Russia's V. M. Molotov was expected to bring into the open today his demands for a United Nations declarations pledging all its 60 members to work for peace.

Western diplomats believed this would be the center piece of the foreign policy statement which the Soviet foreign minister was to make before the UN's 10th anniversary session.

MOLOTOV was reported last night to have given the western big three foreign ministers a partial reply to their proposals for setting up the summit talks in Geneva next month.

Informed quarters said the Soviet foreign minister had made reservations on only one important point, namely the western proposal to limit the talks to four or six days. He was understood to have expressed the belief that no time limit should be placed on the Geneva talks.

DIPLOMATS reported Molotov was agreeable to ending a long stalemate over admitting new United Nations members. He was said to have agreed to admission of Austria, Italy and Finland along with three Communist nations, Hungary, Romania and Bulgaria.

Henry Cabot Lodge Jr., permanent U. S. delegate, proposed in a statement that all nations give the UN information on radiation fallout in nuclear tests. Veteran UN observers speculated that Russia was not yet likely to submit any important data on its nuclear explosions. Lodge urged the cooperation so "all nations can be satisfied that humanity is not endangered by these tests."

AS THE session went into its third day, there appeared to be little doubt that the San Francisco meeting would approve some form of peace declaration. The main question was whether Russia and the western powers could agree on procedure and form.

In private talks, Motolov has told other diplomats—including the western Big Three Foreign Ministers and UN Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold—that he wants the 60 nations to adopt a formal resolution urging all-out peace efforts.

THE WESTERN diplomats call this a propaganda move. They have indicated, however, that they would agree to a declaration by Dr. Eelco N. Van Kleffens, General Assembly president, saying that the delegations here unanimously support all peace attempts. This would not require a formal vote.

Argentina Calm, Troops Back to Barracks

Rival Politicos Going Free, Will Try Rebel Militia Force

Buenos Aires, Argentina, June 22 (AP)—Political prisoners arrested in connection with last week's revolt against the government of President Juan D. Peron are being released, the government announced today.

The order frees political opponents of the government such as Crisologo Larralde, leader of the Radical Party, who were jailed during and after the revolt.

The rebels themselves—mostly navy fliers and marine corps personnel—are to be tried by the Supreme Council of the Armed Forces.

THE GOVERNMENT announcement said it had been decided to release political prisoners "in the interests of restoring complete tranquility throughout the nation."

A communique earlier from Maj. Gen. Franklin Lucero, army minister and commander in chief of the "forces of repression," reported all of Argentina absolutely calm. Troops guarding public buildings and churches in the capital since the uprising last Thursday were sent back to their barracks today.

POLICE in Rosario, capital of Santa Fe province and Argentina's second largest city, announced that 21 Communists had been arrested there for distributing subversive leaflets and violating the state security decree.

Peron apparently resumed his normal routine yesterday in improvised offices in his residence in Palermo, the northwestern quarter of the city where the zoological gardens and racetrack are located. Following the bombing of government house during the resolt, the president set up temporary officers in Lucero's War Ministry. Peron had

Rotation Will Start July 2

Washington, June 22 (AP)—The army plans to start on July 2 the trans-Atlantic movement of some 35,000 soldiers and about 10,000 of their wives and children—with half heading for Germany and the other half for Kansas.

Involved is the rotation to Ft. Riley, Kan., of the 1st Division and its simultaneous replacement in Germany by the 10th Division, now at Ft. Riley.

The army said yesterday the operation—described as the biggest peacetime movement of its kind—would take weeks.

Police Chief Raymond Van Buren and the personnel of his department were commended in two letters received at headquarters this week citing excellent work in the handling of traffic and other details in conjunction with the parade Saturday of the Hudson Valley Volunteer Firemen's Association.

Youngster Is Hurt As Car Rolls, Hits Pole

A young boy occupant of a sedan was injured when it rolled a short distance down the Broadway hill and struck a pole last night.

Floyd Hardy, of 262 North street, owner and operator of the car, had apparently left it parked above West Union street and went into Blinder's store, police said. It rolled into a street light pole.

Officers Julius Glassman and Sheldon O'Rourke reported that Curtis Leget, 4, of 32 Tompkins street, the boy in the car, was taken to Kingston Hospital for treatment of a laceration of the forehead, other cuts and bruises.

The report indicated that the boy might have "disengaged the emergency brake."

Boiceville Home Leveled by Fire

A fire of undetermined origin burned an unoccupied six-room cottage to the ground early today on Hellman's Hill, Boiceville, about a mile from the Onteora Central School.

The one-and-a-half-story dwelling, owned by L. M. Harrington of New York, was engulfed in flames when three trucks and a tanker from the Olive Fire Department reached the scene. The cottage is located on Beachford road about a half mile east of Onteora Trail.

Italian Premier Quits as Coalition Head

Rift in Party Is Blamed For End of 15-Month Reign

Rome, June 22 (AP)—Premier Mario Scelba today turned in the resignation of the coalition government with which for 15 months he has battled Italian communism and backed the West.

Even as Scelba was closeted with President Giovanni Gronchi in the Quirinale Palace, a communique from this morning's heated cabinet session said:

"The Council of Ministers agreed unanimously on the presentation to the president of the resignations of the entire cabinet."

SCELBA REMAINED in the presidential palace an hour. The tough little Sicilian premier came out visibly moved.

"I have handed it in," he told reporters.

"I have done my duty. I leave with perfect serenity."

He expressed his hope that "the crisis may now be soon resolved."

As usual, there was no immediate word whether Gronchi would accept the resignation.

Scelba's government came to a crisis last night when his own big Christian Democrat party walked out on his coalition and one of his rebelling minor party allies refused to return to the fold.

THE RIFT in the Christian Democrat party apparently was a fight for power between groups led by Scelba, party Secretary General Amintore Fanfani and former premier Giuseppe Pella.

Pella and his group want to try a one-party cabinet. Social

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., June 22 (AP)—Gabriele Cicala, who has already raised a family of 10 children, aged 38 to 53, has started anew at the age of 85.

Cicala, a retired farmer, became the father of a seven-pound boy yesterday. I'm still full of pep," he said with a grin to relatives and friends.

After his first wife died seven years ago, Cicala decided to marry again. He went to his native town of Marciamise, Italy, and found a bride, Venera, now 33. The baby is their first child.

Half Billion Marked For GM Expansion

Detroit, June 22 (AP)—Harlow H. Curtice announced today General Motors Corp. "is undertaking a new expansion program calling for capital expenditures of a half-billion dollars."

The GM president said the program "is a measure of our faith in our country" and will enable the company "to make its full contribution to a strong and expanding national economy."

Curtice said the program, including construction of approximately 6,300,000 square feet of additional floor space, will be substantially completed by the end of next year. He said the major expenditure will be for new machine tools, presses and other facilities.

Damage Is Slight Here From Storm

A heavy lightning storm early this morning caused minor damage to utilities in the area, may have ignited a cottage in Boiceville, which burned to the ground and shook a number of people out of a sound sleep—but the area was lightly struck compared to certain other parts of New York state.

The Associated Press reported from Albany that a thunder and lightning storm strewing wreckage estimated at more than $600,000 had struck early today, heralding the arrival of summer.

HEAVY WIND, hail and rain played a part, with lightning believed to have started several fires, the worst of which destroyed a grain storage building at Eaton Station, Madison county, west of Utica. The owner estimated the loss at more than $500,000.

Higher Wages to Push Prices Up High as $50

Washington, June 22 (AP)—Sen. Magnuson (D.-Wash.) said today the cost of automobiles bought for the government probably will go up $25 to $50 because of new wage agreements in the motor industry.

That is why, Magnuson said in an interview, he asked and won Senate approval yesterday for upping the limit on such purchases previously voted by the House.

The government, biggest buyer of automobiles, gets special bargain prices because of its volume purchases.

The House previously had voted a top limit of $1,350 above trade-ins on the bulk of such purchases for federal civilian agencies. Last year the figure was $1,400.

Without debate, Magnuson won Senate approval of a $25 increase in the limit on passenger automobiles to $1,375 and of $525 to $1,875 for station wagons.

In addition the Senate specified the new limits do not include the "amount of the manufacturer's regular established charge to the public for transportation and delivery."

Magnuson said representatives of General Motors and Ford told him the $1,350 limit voted by the House "would not last very long."

All the provisions were attached to a relatively small $27,166,300 appropriation that sped through the Senate yesterday. It

Seeks Jail Terms for Employes

SLA Men Have Refused Data About Finances

New York, June 22 (AP)—State Investigation Commissioner J. Irwin Shapiro has started court action seeking to have six employes of the State Liquor Authority (SLA) jailed on contempt charges for refusing to answer questions about their finances.

At Shapiro's request, State Supreme Court Justice Samuel Gold ordered the six yesterday to show cause Friday why warrants for their arrest should not be issued.

Shapiro wants the six held in jail until they answer his questions.

The six, all SLA investigators, were identified by Shapiro as Harry Newman, Louis Levine, Allen S. Peterman, Julius Fein, Samuel Singer and Irving Reiss. Their duties are to investigate persons who apply for liquor licenses and to inspect premises when applications to relocate licenses are made. The six are civil service employes.

Shapiro began an investigation of the SLA last winter, and sent a 29-page questionnaire to its 290 employes. He announced he would subpoena all who refused to answer the questions.

Affidavits filed by Shapiro in court yesterday said the six refused to answer questions at a hearing he called in his office here on May 6. Samuel Resnicoff, counsel for the six, advised them to refuse to answer on the ground the questions violated their constitutional rights, it was stated.

Shapiro's associate counsel, Harold Mayer, who sat as examiner, overruled the objections and directed the six employes to answer. But they repeated their refusals, it was alleged.

Among the questions were

Heck Declares Harriman Out as Future Candidate

Cooperstown, N. Y., June 22 (AP)—Assembly Speaker Oswald D. Heck declared today that Gov. Harriman's record in Albany could not win him a presidential nomination next year or renomination for governor in 1958.

The Republican leader asserted that the governor's Democratic administration in its first six months had compiled a record of "confusion" and "bungling."

Heck unleashed a broad attack on the Harriman regime in a speech prepared for delivery at the summer convention of the Federation of Women's Republican Clubs of New York State.

Recalling that Harriman last January had promised a "bold, adventurous" program, Heck said the governor had demonstrated that his administration was "centered on the utterance of irresponsible and inaccurate charges."

Heck said Harriman claimed to have inherited a fiscal deficit from the Republican administration of former Gov. Thomas E. Dewey. But, the speaker continued, a subsequent report by State Comptroller Arthur Levitt, a Democrat, "proved beyond any doubt the soundness of the fiscal condition of the state.'

Heck took issue with Harri-

SCELBA REMAINED in the presidential palace an hour. The tough little Sicilian premier came out visibly moved.

"I have handed it in," he told reporters.

"I have done my duty. I leave with perfect serenity."

He expressed his hope that "the crisis may now be soon resolved."

As usual, there was no immediate word whether Gronchi would accept the resignation.

Scelba's government came to a crisis last night when his own big Christian Democrat party walked out on his coalition and one of his rebelling minor party allies refused to return to the fold.

THE RIFT in the Christian Democrat party apparently was a fight for power between groups led by Scelba, party Secretary General Amintore Fanfani and former premier Giuseppe Pella.

Pella and his group want to try a one-party cabinet. Social

Father of 11th Child at 85

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., June 22 (AP)—Gabriele Cicala, who has already raised a family of 10 children, aged 38 to 53, has started anew at the age of 85.

Cicala, a retired farmer, became the father of a seven-pound boy yesterday. I'm still full of pep," he said with a grin to relatives and friends.

After his first wife died seven years ago, Cicala decided to marry again. He went to his native town of Marciamise, Italy, and found a bride, Venera, now 33. The baby is their first child.

Accord Woman Is Drowning Victim

The body of Mary Lynch, also known as Mary Rowland, about 50, who resided at the Majestic Bungalow Colony, Accord, was found lying face down in Rondout creek near the village about 8:20 p. m. Tuesday, it was reported by Ellenville State Police.

Dr. Charles Rosenstock of Ellenville, coroner, returned a verdict of accidental death due to drowning.

THE ACCIDENT is believed to have occurred between 5 and 8 p. m., troopers said. It was reported that the woman may have lost her balance and fallen into the creek.

Troopers said the body was about six feet from the bank when it was found by John Ells-

Boiceville Home Leveled by Fire

A fire of undetermined origin burned an unoccupied six-room cottage to the ground early today on Hellman's Hill, Boiceville, about a mile from the Onteora Central School.

The one-and-a-half-story dwelling, owned by L. M. Harrington of New York, was engulfed in flames when three trucks and a tanker from the Olive Fire Department reached the scene. The cottage is located on Beachford road about a half mile east of Onteora Trail.

Half Billion Marked For GM Expansion

Detroit, June 22 (AP)—Harlow H. Curtice announced today General Motors Corp. "is undertaking a new expansion program calling for capital expenditures of a half-billion dollars."

The GM president said the program "is a measure of our faith in our country" and will enable the company "to make its full contribution to a strong and expanding national economy."

Curtice said the program, including construction of approximately 6,300,000 square feet of additional floor space, will be substantially completed by the end of next year. He said the major expenditure will be for new machine tools, presses and other facilities.

Damage Is Slight Here From Storm

A heavy lightning storm early this morning caused minor damage to utilities in the area, may have ignited a cottage in Boiceville, which burned to the ground and shook a number of people out of a sound sleep—but the area was lightly struck compared to certain other parts of New York state.

The Associated Press reported from Albany that a thunder and lightning storm strewing wreckage estimated at more than $600,000 had struck early today, heralding the arrival of summer.

HEAVY WIND, hail and rain played a part, with lightning believed to have started several fires, the worst of which destroyed a grain storage building at Eaton Station, Madison county, west of Utica. The owner estimated the loss at more than $500,000.

Seeks Jail Terms for Employes

SLA Men Have Refused Data About Finances

New York, June 22 (AP)—State Investigation Commissioner J. Irwin Shapiro has started court action seeking to have six employes of the State Liquor Authority (SLA) jailed on contempt charges for refusing to answer questions about their finances.

At Shapiro's request, State Supreme Court Justice Samuel Gold ordered the six yesterday to show cause Friday why warrants for their arrest should not be issued.

Shapiro wants the six held in jail until they answer his questions.

The six, all SLA investigators, were identified by Shapiro as Harry Newman, Louis Levine, Allen S. Peterman, Julius Fein, Samuel Singer and Irving Reiss. Their duties are to investigate persons who apply for liquor licenses and to inspect premises when applications to relocate licenses are made. The six are civil service employes.

Shapiro began an investigation of the SLA last winter, and sent a 29-page questionnaire to its 290 employes. He announced he would subpoena all who refused to answer the questions.

Affidavits filed by Shapiro in court yesterday said the six refused to answer questions at a hearing he called in his office here on May 6. Samuel Resnicoff, counsel for the six, advised them to refuse to answer on the ground the questions violated their constitutional rights, it was stated.

Shapiro's associate counsel, Harold Mayer, who sat as examiner, overruled the objections and directed the six employes to answer. But they repeated their refusals, it was alleged.

Among the questions were

Heck Declares Harriman Out as Future Candidate

Cooperstown, N. Y., June 22 (AP)—Assembly Speaker Oswald D. Heck declared today that Gov. Harriman's record in Albany could not win him a presidential nomination next year or renomination for governor in 1958.

The Republican leader asserted that the governor's Democratic administration in its first six months had compiled a record of "confusion" and "bungling."

Heck unleashed a broad attack on the Harriman regime in a speech prepared for delivery at the summer convention of the Federation of Women's Republican Clubs of New York State.

Recalling that Harriman last January had promised a "bold, adventurous" program, Heck said the governor had demonstrated that his administration was "centered on the utterance of irresponsible and inaccurate charges."

Heck said Harriman claimed to have inherited a fiscal deficit from the Republican administration of former Gov. Thomas E. Dewey. But, the speaker continued, a subsequent report by State Comptroller Arthur Levitt, a Democrat, "proved beyond any doubt the soundness of the fiscal condition of the state.'

Heck took issue with Harri-

Competition Strong Block On Industry-wide Talks

BY JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

Washington, June 22 (AP) — Walter Reuther made the auto giants squirm by tackling them separately. They're so competitive they'd probably rather continue to squirm sepaartely than work together to block Reuther.

Henry Ford II, after watching Reuther operate for years, suggested this week the auto makers should force Reuther into industry-wide bargaining so he'd have to deal wtih them all at the same time.

General Motors made no comment but reportedly is opposed to Ford's idea. Reuther, the CIO Auto Workers' president who knows a soft touch when he sees it, said his union would not accept industry-wide bargaining.

IF THE AUTO makers, under Ford's industry-wide bargaining plan, balked at some future demand of Reuther and his union struck, all plants would be shut down simultaneously with no company having a competitive advantage over another.

As it is now, with company-by-company bargaining, one after the other, Reuther can play off the auto makers against one another. He has done it consistently, and again this year in his negotiations with Ford and GM.

He put the heat on Ford first. Ford, in the greatest race of its history to outsell GM's Chevrolet, could ill afford a strike while GM was left free to pump out Chevrolets. Ford signed up.

Ford's contract with Reuther gave it assurance of uninterrupted production no matter what happened in the rest of the industry. This put GM over a competitive barrel.

IF IT BALKED at Reuther's demands—the same ones he made on Ford—and forced a strike, it would not only lose out in the Chevrolet race against Ford but would lose on the sales of its other cars. It signed up in short order.

The most sensational issue in the two negotiations was the guaranteed lay-off pay, which Reuther calls a guaranteed wage, and which the companies themselves refer to as supplemental pay for laid-off workers.

The companies agreed to give any of their employes thrown out of work some pay for a maximum of 26 weeks. This would be in addition to whatever unemployment pay they could draw from their states. All states have unemployment pay systems.

IT'S JUST possible—judging from what GM's Vice President Harry W. Anderson said, although his words were ambiguous—that GM might have balked at the guaranteed lay-off pay, even if it meant a strike, if Ford hadn't first agreed to it.

After the GM negotiations Anderson told Reuther: "Walter, we had a lot of disagreements in there . . . but I do want to congratulate you on your judgment in going somewhere else (to Ford) first to get it (the guaranteed lay-off pay)."

But in this period of prosperity and record-breaking car sales, perhaps GM would have given in to Reuther if he had tackled it first instead of Ford. Neither company said it couldn't afford to meet Reuther's demands.

GM might have struggled harder to give less than Ford agreed to but probably not hard enough to cause a strike. What they gave Reuther was far less than he demanded.

HE WON'T FORGET HIS PILLS—Capt. John W. Dennis surveys an appropriate arrangement of "lonely pills," a discovery made by his bride of two months. Captain Dennis, postal officer for the Berlin, Germany, Command, received a box of the transparent gelatin capsules from his bride in Columbus, Ga., with directions to "take as often as needed for loneliness." Each capsule contains a love message, memento or drawing. How does the captain like them? "They make me more lonely than ever," he says.

SO OLD IT'S NEW — Does this bowl look familiar? Sure—you can see designs like this in any china department that features modernistic decoration. Well, the bowl WAS modern—about 2500 years ago. Heck Declares man's recent charge that the Republicans had been guilty of "creeping complacency" in the state's highway construction program.

The Assembly speaker said "everybody knows" the Dewey Administration set up the temporary state commission on highway finance, which recommended the 750-million-dollar highway bond issue that will go before the voters this fall.

Heck said more than 6,000 miles of highways had been built and the State Thruway inaugurated under Republican administrations.

Heck claimed that Harriman had failed to keep campaign promises last fall to relieve unemployment in New York state.

"The only move which the governor has made (since he took office) was to approve a Republican initiated and sponsored bill to create a business development corporation," Heck said.

"If the first six months of the Harriman Administration set a pattern of what the people of the state may expect in the future," Heck said, "I predict that Mr. Harriman will not be nominated for the presidency in 1956 or renominated for governor in 1958."

Decision to Desert Reds Made in Air

Seoul, Korea, June 22 (AP)—South Korean air force sources said today the two North Korean fliers who landed an old Russian-built Yak fighter here made their quick decision to quit Communist Korea after they were airborne.

ROK air force sources said Capt. Lee On Yong, the Russian-trained pilot, proposed yesterday, "Ive been wanting a real chance to desert. I think now is the time. What do you say?"

Lt. Lee Eun Sung, the navigator, agreed.

American and Korean intelligence officers still are questioning the two. A press conference has not yet been scheduled.

Insurance Pays Off

Summit, Ill. (AP) — Lenena Davis, 32, a shapely one-time ballet dancer, lived in a home on Chicago Sanitary District property along the Des Plaines river. She ignored eviction notices and was evicted by police. Then a crew of the sanitary district burned the house under police guard after removing her belongings, including several dogs. Now her lawyer, Clarence M. Dunagan, says the company which insured the house has agreed to pay her $2,800 and will then try to collect a like sum from the sanitary district.

Cars Turn White

Detroit (AP) — Emphasizing what it terms something revolutionary in car buying habits, one big manufacturer reports more than half of its current output has bodies in two sharply contrasting colors. And white appears on 40 per cent of the company's cars. It was virtually unknown on passenger cars three years ago.

World oil production reached a record 700 milion tons in 1954.

Competition Strong Block On Industry-wide Talks

BY JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

Washington, June 22 (AP) — Walter Reuther made the auto giants squirm by tackling them separately. They're so competitive they'd probably rather continue to squirm sepaartely than work together to block Reuther.

Henry Ford II, after watching Reuther operate for years, suggested this week the auto makers should force Reuther into industry-wide bargaining so he'd have to deal wtih them all at the same time.

General Motors made no comment but reportedly is opposed to Ford's idea. Reuther, the CIO Auto Workers' president who knows a soft touch when he sees it, said his union would not accept industry-wide bargaining.

IF THE AUTO makers, under Ford's industry-wide bargaining plan, balked at some future demand of Reuther and his union struck, all plants would be shut down simultaneously with no company having a competitive advantage over another.

As it is now, with company-by-company bargaining, one after the other, Reuther can play off the auto makers against one another. He has done it consistently, and again this year in his negotiations with Ford and GM.

He put the heat on Ford first. Ford, in the greatest race of its history to outsell GM's Chevrolet, could ill afford a strike while GM was left free to pump out Chevrolets. Ford signed up.

Ford's contract with Reuther gave it assurance of uninterrupted production no matter what happened in the rest of the industry. This put GM over a competitive barrel.

IF IT BALKED at Reuther's demands—the same ones he made on Ford—and forced a strike, it would not only lose out in the Chevrolet race against Ford but would lose on the sales of its other cars. It signed up in short order.

The most sensational issue in the two negotiations was the guaranteed lay-off pay, which Reuther calls a guaranteed wage, and which the companies themselves refer to as supplemental pay for laid-off workers.

The companies agreed to give any of their employes thrown out of work some pay for a maximum of 26 weeks. This would be in addition to whatever unemployment pay they could draw from their states. All states have unemployment pay systems.

IT'S JUST possible—judging from what GM's Vice President Harry W. Anderson said, although his words were ambiguous—that GM might have balked at the guaranteed lay-off pay, even if it meant a strike, if Ford hadn't first agreed to it.

After the GM negotiations Anderson told Reuther: "Walter, we had a lot of disagreements in there . . . but I do want to congratulate you on your judgment in going somewhere else (to Ford) first to get it (the guaranteed lay-off pay)."

But in this period of prosperity and record-breaking car sales, perhaps GM would have given in to Reuther if he had tackled it first instead of Ford. Neither company said it couldn't afford to meet Reuther's demands.

GM might have struggled harder to give less than Ford agreed to but probably not hard enough to cause a strike. What they gave Reuther was far less than he demanded.

HE WON'T FORGET HIS PILLS—Capt. John W. Dennis surveys an appropriate arrangement of "lonely pills," a discovery made by his bride of two months. Captain Dennis, postal officer for the Berlin, Germany, Command, received a box of the transparent gelatin capsules from his bride in Columbus, Ga., with directions to "take as often as needed for loneliness." Each capsule contains a love message, memento or drawing. How does the captain like them? "They make me more lonely than ever," he says.

Modern students believe that the oracle at Delphi in ancient Greek was an institution built around a natural gas leak.

ULSTER COUNTY S.P.C.A.

The Ulster County Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, which is doing a very effective job, calls attention to the fact that animals should be treated with special care during the summer heat.

A drink of fresh cool water and protection from the sun are among the requirements during the hot, humid days of summer. The S.P.C.A. is interested in all animals and asks the cooperation of everyone, without respect to whether a person owns pets.

The S.P.C.A. has an animal shelter on Brabrant Road, which was built entirely with its own funds. There is no government funds in the building and the Society presented it to the County of Ulster, which receives its benefits and privileges—rent free.

Functioning chiefly through memberships and donations, the Society has made great progress in the past few years. The officers and members are to be congratulated for accomplishing so much with so little.

The 20 kennels at the shelter often are full of dogs and cats and the Society engages in rescue work for neglected farm work. The shelter is equipped to handle animal rescue work in the proper manner. In the quarters are heat, running water, electricity, humane disposal plant, animal ambulance and other equipment.

The Ulster County S.P.C.A. deserves the generous support of all residents.

RIDING THE LAW

President Eisenhower does well to condemn the congressional practice of legislative riders. These are amendments attached to a bill that have little relation or connection to the subject of the bill itself. These riders are used either to defeat the main bill by tying it up with an unpopular provision, or as an attempt to get an unpopular or weak measure passed by attaching it to a popular bill.

Both are attempts to hamper legislative freedom by making it necessary to take either two separate measures together or defeat both together, when it might be desired to choose one and reject the other.

This practice is not new nor is it confined simply to congress. As voters, citizens are often faced with complicated proposals on ballots sometimes linking things as remote as school bonds and street improvements.

This sort of hand-tying is legislative chicanery that can well defeat honest efforts. Issues should be proposed, challenged and judged on their own separate merits. Riders are politicking at its worst. Legislation of this type does nothing to lift the distrust many have for "politicians" and such methods can only increase the conviction these people have that too often politicians allow special interests to press too hard and too effectively against the will of the majority.

IN BUSINESS

In patronizing local businesses there are several seasonal services which blossom at about this time. Owner and chief labor force of these briskly moving summer enterprises is usually an alert young man impressive in his anxiety to please and be pleased with a small reimbursement.

The young tycoon will mow the lawn, wash the car, pull weeds, rout dandelions or eagerly display his worm digging talents.

These are small businesses and like all modest operations need a good deal of encouragement and good will to thrive. They need as well the customer's expectation of hard work conscientiously performed. When services are well rendered, the young business concerns will pridefully welcome compliments from clients.

As in the case of most budding careers the necessity of advertising demands more time and effort than the activities of business can well afford. So the youthful promoter hopefully depends upon his customers' satisfaction to speak for him where the advertising will help.

Remember your local businesses both large and small this summer but most of all remember your young businessmen, and tell your friends about them when they are good.

'These Days'

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY

THEY NEVER HAD IT SO GOOD

Professor Richard Hofstadter of Columbia University is having a tough time translating himself into a conservative. Apparently the cult of liberalism is proving as unpopular in the 1950's as the cult of fellow-travelling proved to be in the late 1940's. Men who live by labels often discover that their thinking has run away from the labels, so the liberal calls himself a conservative, and Professor Hofstadter calls conservatives, "pseudo-conservatives," whatever that may mean. He tries to tell what it means in a long article in "The American Scholar" but gets into an interesting tangle. For instance, he makes this point:

". . . After 20 years the New Deal liberals have quite unconsciously taken on the psychology of those who have entered into possession. Moreover, a large part of the New Deal public, the jobless, distracted and bewildered men of 1933, have in the course of the years found substantial places in society for themselves, have become home-owners, suburbanites and solid citizens. Many of them still keep the emotional commitments to the liberal dissent with which they grew up politically, but their social position is one of solid comfort. Among them the dominant tone has become one of satisfaction, even of a kind of conservatism. . . ."

Is that bad?

The history of the United States has been one of protest and rectification, of a struggle for a higher standard of living, of a constant rise of individuals from one social group to another. We are not a static society. We are a competitive society. We do not expect the poor to remain dispossessed; we expect them to move forward not in a struggle for existence but in an adventure in freedom.

That has been our story since the first settlers began to move westward, from New England to New York and Ohio, from Virginia to Kentucky and Tennessee and then westward until they reached the Pacific, and southward until they reached the Rio Grande.

The protesters of one generation become the conservatives of another. Were William Jennings Bryan alive, he would find that some of his most fantastic economic and social concepts are conservative today. The socialism of Norman Thomas became the New Deal of Franklin D. Roosevelt, which is no longer progressive in the period of Walter Reuther.

It is because conservatives pull in one direction and the protesters in many opposite directions that we are not a static or a revolutionary society. The quarrels among conservatives and radicals produce not conformity by a dynamism that functions progressively as long as there is equality of opportunity on the economic side and a lust for the better life on the social side.

The doctrinaire liberal is often appalled by prosperity when according to his notions there should be failure; by growth when he believes the frontiers have disappeared; by the strength of the capitalist system when he believes that it should have failed by now. He just does not understand how it is that dumb clucks do manage to put things together and make them run. The answer is that they do. And they do it because they want to get more of the good things of life for themselves and their families.

So when Professor Hofstadter worries about the "punitive reaction" of those whom he calls pseudo-conservatives, he talks nonsense. There is no such thing. He may be worried about a general desire to kick all Communists and their friends in the teeth, but that has to do with another subject. It is a normal response to betrayal. It is a characteristic American dislike for the citizen who prefers another country to his own. It can all be read in Edward Everett Hale's "The Man Without a Country," which was written in another era and is wholly unrelated to current events. The sentiment of that book persists. The feeling is that those who hate America ought to go to some place which they do not hate.

There are those who would confuse anti-Communism and anti-betrayal with anti-intellectualism and conformity. They assume that if they change the words, they change the facts. They assume for themselves a monopoly of intellectual disciplines which they do not possess to any greater degree than those whom they oppose. None of this really matters. What does matter is that the United States survives them all.

That Body of Yours

By JAMES W. BARTON, M.D.

ANOTHER HELP FOR MENTAL PATIENTS

There are some mental patients who are quiet and willing to follow the doctors' and nurses' advice. And there also are many mental patients who are extremely difficult to manage. They upset the whole ward because of their overactivity, agitation and anxiety, frequently accompanied by delusions, hallucinations, and other symptoms which show that they are out of touch with their surroundings. To this later group, just nineteen in all, varying in age from 19 to 61, one of the new drugs, rauwolfia alkaloid reserpine, was administered.

The initial routine dosage is 5 mgm, injected into a muscle, and 3 mgm., by mouth was given in the beginning and adjusted to suit each individual patient. The length of the treatment varied from six to 35 days, depending upon how the patient reacted to the drug and what results were obtained.

Some of the side effects were: extrapyramidal syndrome, in which there is rigidity in the upper limbs, loss of expression in the face, and sometimes a shuffling gait; sleepiness; increase in appetite; flushing; chills, and trembling.

What was the result from the use of this new drug, reserpine? Reserpine had an effect upon the behavior and emotional activity of all the patients. Generally speaking, this effect was a definite reduction in agitated or overactive behavior and made the patients less troublesome and easier to manage in the ward. There was a general reduction in the patients' reactions to stimuli, even after the initial sleepiness had passed.

What about results in mental condition? In this angle, there were really no changes except possibly it reduced the severity and frequency of hallucinations and emotional disturbance.

Drs. J. S. Tyhurst and A. Richman, Montreal, who carried out this experiment, feel that all the patients showed improvement on this drug insofar as it reduced their overactivity, agitation, and severe emotional disturbance. As far as underlying personality problems and conflicts were concerned, there was no evidence that the drug had any direct or lasting effect.

To sum up: "The drug is definitely useful in reducing the acuteness and severity of the problems created in a psychiatric ward by overactive and disturbed patients, both for the patient's improvement in symptoms and for the ward in general. It makes it possible to observe the patient for a longer period without resorting to more strenuous forms of treatment such as electric shock. At the same time it is our feeling that the drug, in itself, has no lasting effect but allows time for diagnosis and a plan of treatment to be established."

Edson's Washington News Notebook

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

Emergency Press Headquarters, Operation Alert (NEA)—The U. S. Department of Labor has announced that the American Federation of Labor would give the government a "no strike" pledge in case this country were subjected to a real attack by atomic bombs.

The Department of State says it is likely there will be a meeting of Big Four foreign ministers in the week before the heads of state meet in Geneva on July 18.

The Treasury says Congress would be reconvened in special session in case the U. S. were subjected to a real atomic bomb attack. Congress would be asked to increase the debt limit, in case this action had not been taken before adjournment.

The Atomic Energy Commission announced that it still expected the Dixon-Yates contract to be fulfilled. In the event it is not carried out, AEC will still rely on the attorney general's opinion that it will have first call on all power produced by the Tennessee Valley Authority.

These four bulletins are not just handouts from government agencies prepared in advance as administration propaganda.

THESE FOUR EXCLUSIVE STATEMENTS, plus a few other minor news breaks given below, came as an unexpected bonus out of the three-day civil defense test on how the government would function if it was bombed out of Washington.

To find out how news could be obtained in such an emergency, this reporter and two colleagues, Roscoe Drummond of the New York Herald Tribune and William Stringer of the Christian Science Monitor threw a surprise test into the civil defense machinery.

We submitted a series of 12 questions to as many government department heads whose temporary offices were scattered in a 300-mile radius west of Washington for the evacuation and relocation test.

The results were far better than we expected. The results were even better than the government information chiefs expected. They had not figured on an fast curves of this kind being thrown at them. But they recognized that this was a good test of their emergency conditions.

At 2:30 p. m. on the first day of the exercise, we dropped our questions on the desk of Murray Snyder, assistant press secretary of the White House, who was in charge of press HQ.

SNYDER HAD TO RELAY the questions to "Quarterback," which was the code name for the government's Emergency Information Center. Herschel Schooley, Department of Defense information chief, was in charge there. He relayed the queries to the various temporary department headquarters in Virginia and Maryland.

Five of the questions were answered in four hours. Seven were answered in five hours. Ten were answered in 10 hours.

By contrast, it sometimes takes days to get an answer, even when all communication channels are open and fully operative.

This time, only two agencies conked out.

Office of Defense Mobilization was asked if the President would have authority to freeze prices and wages in a real emergency of this kind. No answer came back.

Department of Justice was asked if it would appeal to the Supreme Court the dismissal of key indictments in the Owen Lattimore perjury case. No answer came back.

The FBI was asked what special security measures it would take to deal with problems arising in a real emergency. It answered promptly, but the answer was the usual, "no comment."

Department of Defense was asked how many planes the Strategic Air Command had put in the air in this exercise. SAC sent back the word promptly that it was participating only in the evacuation exercise, and not in retaliatory maneuvers.

DEPARTMENT OF INTERIOR was asked if it would withdraw its request for authorization of the upper Colorado river project in case of a real emergency. It sent back word that this would depend on whether it could get priorities for material and manpower.

Department of Health Education and Welfare was asked what its assignments were in the simulated emergency. The reply was that it was still studying the problem and would report later. This was typical runaround, par for normal government operation.

Department of Agriculture was asked it it would distribute surplus foodstuffs and grain to bombed out areas. The answer was in effect, "yes" — if local surveys showed the need for it.

The White House was asked what positive results might be expected from the meeting between President Eisenhower and India's V. K. Krishna Menon. Press Secretary James C. Hagerty fell back on his earlier statement that the two would meet again.

Today in San Francisco

West Agreed on Policy To Follow at 'Summit'

By DAVID LAWRENCE

San Francisco, June 21 — Nehru goes to Russia and makes a speech to 100,000 people promising them that Red China will be in the United Nations soon.

This headline news greeted the delegates to the anniversary celebration of the United Nations at their second-day session, and one wondered how Mr. Nehru was thereby contributing to the "relaxation of tension" that everybody talks about but nobody quite defines.

For if this is Nehru's idea of how to play the part of a mediator or conciliator and if this is the reason why he has sent his stooge, Krishna Menon, here to talk about the supposedly great mediating power of India in the world today, somebody is in for a sad awakening.

Maybe Nehru who now has arrogantly lined himself up on the Communist side and defiantly takes a slap at the policies of the United States and does it in Moscow itself, is unaware what impartiality really means. Maybe he doesn't know that here at the San Francisco conference they don't dare mention Red China, because that Communist regime was responsible for the major defeat handed the United Nations in Korea. But the sum total of Mr. Nehru's comments is to arouse the delegates here to the fact that they may make all the fine orations they wish about peace but, until the so-called democracies — India included — play ball together, the gangsters in the Moscow government are going to feel they are making progress both in dividing the West and in forcing an acceptance of Communist demands.

Soviet Premier Bulganin, who spoke in Moscow after Mr. Nehru did, told the same audience that he was going to the four-power meeting at Geneva to help in the "relaxation of tension." Evidently Mr. Nehru now has expressed his idea of how to relax tension—give in to the Communist demands, starting with the admission of Red China into the United Nations.

But Messrs. Nehru and Bulganin have a surprise in store for them. The delegates here from the principal Western powers have had a chance to talk a lot to each other about the forthcoming four-power meeting at Geneva, and there is beginning to be a clearer idea of the Western position and tactics.

For one thing, the spokesmen of the Western countries are agreed that it would be folly to go to Geneva and sit there listening to a series of demands that would add up to the weakening of the Allied military position in Europe. Likewise, they think it would be a mistake to adopt a negative attitude and make no counter expression.

There is more confidence now in the ranks of the Allied governments—Great Britain, the United States and France—as to the approach to be made at the four-power meeting than there has been at any time since the conference idea was announced.

What has happened is that the three Foreign Ministers see the situation as one that can lead to "relaxation of tension" if the government which has produced the tension does some relaxing of the things that since 1945 have alarmed the world and brought the threat of World War 3.

So it appears to be the Western strategy to say frankly to the Soviets that the time has come for some manifestations—some withdrawals from the positions hitherto taken by the Moscow regime. The controversy in Washington, simulated by the resolution of Sen. McCarthy demanding that the status of the satellite states be discussed at the Big Four meeting, is in a sense academic. It is important, of course, to bring up the subject at the Geneva meeting, and this has been the intention right along of the Department of State. But what is of greater importance is to outline to the Soviets that it is the status of all European states which must be changed — from an atmosphere of coercoin and military domination to one of freedom from fear. The fate of one is tied up with the fate of all the others.

Thus it may be expected that the Western leaders will propose that study be given to a European security system in which every nation will be free and independent. Unquestionably this puts up to the Communists the necessity for their abandonment of all military coercion of the satellite states and all Communistic infiltration into the West as well.

Nobody need assume that the Western Foreign Ministers and heads of state will fail to point out the causes of tension. There will be public speeches and private conferences on that subject, for this is the heart of the peace problem of today.

The meeting here is serving to consolidate viewpoints and to bring the three Foreign Ministers into harmonious accord as to the best way to deal with the Geneva conference. That's the reason why they talk hopefully and confidently here about the dramatic impact which they expect the four-power meeting to have in stirring up the moral forces of the world. That's why there isn't much emphasis on "agreements" as such. For really no agreements are necessary. All that's necessary is for the Communists to stop their aggression, their infiltration, their coercion and their tyrannical behavior. That would mean "relaxation of tension" everywhere without so much as a written document to specify it.

If the aggressors will refrain from aggression and voluntarily become peaceful, then maybe the skeptics will believe that the miracle of peaceful co-existence might happen. It's that simple, despite the many hundreds of thousands of words in the speeches and the comments in the press at Moscow and elsewhere.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

I am going to volunteer as bodyguard for Edward P. Murphy, the federal judge from San Francisco, who sentenced the flying Finn twins, George and Charles, to a year in a prison where they could be "taught a trade and receive psychiatric treatment." The judge may not be scared, for he wrote bravely that "threats against life, abuse, vituperation, all of which have been heaped upon me largely by the cowardly who write anonymously," did not cause him "to deviate one iota" from his duty. I think I could dig up one of those psychiatrists who are now on call to pronounce people crazy for rejecting the deity of F. D. Roosevelt, to say that whoever carries on like that over "threats against life, abuse and vituperation" shows an exaggerated sense of persecution.

However, even if some board of psychiatrists should say that Murphy's concern meant something more than cheap self-pity, I would still insist that that is all it means. I have been getting that kind of mash-notes and phone calls for years and I wish to calm the judge, if need be. Whoever really means to do him dirt will neither write nor phone him a warning. Anyway, I will be right there by his side. I won't let anyone hurt you, Murphy.

This fellow is an interesting and, I insist on my opinion, slightly superior specimen of the federal judiciary. We accumulated a raffish roster of lame-ducks, loafers, courthouse hustlers and miscellaneous bums in this jurisprudence during the foul regime, and the scant aristocracy of mediocrities seem solonian by comparison. Even Murphy himself, viewed from the other side of a door, has some of the features of solon.

While I am at my self-inflicted task of standing between his honor and harm, I will teach him something about the English language. In an official copy of an order which he wrote in the Finn case, mailed out from the Department of Justice, he used "flaunt" where I would strongly recommend "flout." These words have nothing in common except four letters.

Murphy wrote first that the Finns had "flagrantly flaunted the laws of the United States." Having struck one foot in the base drum, he couldn't resist the temptation to repeat the spectacle so he wrote that their conduct led to "wanton flaunting of the law."

Judge, listen to teacher, the word "flaunt" means to wave, to flutter, to move ostentiously or display obtrusively.

You don't mean that these twins waved, fluttered, moved ostentatiously and/or displayed the laws of the United States do you, Murphy? There would be nothing deplorable in that.

But the verb to flout means to mock, insult, treat with contempt and/or sneer at. Is that what you meant, Solon?

Suppose you sit down and write "Dear teacher: Flaunt means wave, flutter, move ostentatiously and/or display obtrusively. Flout means to mock, insult, treat with contempt and/or sneer at. (Signed) Eddie Murphy." Write it 50 times, and you will never use "flaunt" in that context again, but God only knows what else you will come up with.

Murphy sent the Finn twins to a disgusting dump where the Prison Bureau segregates the foulest sexual degenerates. He sent them there for slapping handcuffs on a federal attorney in a smelly political conspiracy whereby the Department of Justice snatched back a C-46 which they had bought with $21,000 of their own money to run a private flying service. Their right to the plane was confirmed by other judges and there is no doubt about their title, but the Department of Justice swiped it from them so they pinched the U.S.D.A. under absolutely valid laws. This fellow was not even booked, still less tried, and the fact remains that the plane is the Finns' rightful property. Murphy doesn't do things by halves when he sets out to show himself up. His own education was no more than minimal for an habitual bureaucrat.

The Finn twins, who by his direction were to be taught a trade and given psychiatric treatment, both have degrees in phychology and George had three and one-half years and Charles two years of medicine. George served eight years as an air force flight instructor, experimental engineer in aviation and specialists in the development of the ejection seat for high-speed pilots which has saved many lives of little less value to the country, as a hazard, than Murphy's. Charles flew 68 combat missions as a bomber pilot and won a lot of decorations. After the war both flew in the Berlin air lift.

ULSTER COUNTY S.P.C.A.

The Ulster County Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, which is doing a very effective job, calls attention to the fact that animals should be treated with special care during the summer heat.

A drink of fresh cool water and protection from the sun are among the requirements during the hot, humid days of summer. The S.P.C.A. is interested in all animals and asks the cooperation of everyone, without respect to whether a person owns pets.

The S.P.C.A. has an animal shelter on Brabrant Road, which was built entirely with its own funds. There is no government funds in the building and the Society presented it to the County of Ulster, which receives its benefits and privileges—rent free.

Functioning chiefly through memberships and donations, the Society has made great progress in the past few years. The officers and members are to be congratulated for accomplishing so much with so little.

The 20 kennels at the shelter often are full of dogs and cats and the Society engages in rescue work for neglected farm work. The shelter is equipped to handle animal rescue work in the proper manner. In the quarters are heat, running water, electricity, humane disposal plant, animal ambulance and other equipment.

The Ulster County S.P.C.A. deserves the generous support of all residents.

RIDING THE LAW

President Eisenhower does well to condemn the congressional practice of legislative riders. These are amendments attached to a bill that have little relation or connection to the subject of the bill itself. These riders are used either to defeat the main bill by tying it up with an unpopular provision, or as an attempt to get an unpopular or weak measure passed by attaching it to a popular bill.

Both are attempts to hamper legislative freedom by making it necessary to take either two separate measures together or defeat both together, when it might be desired to choose one and reject the other.

This practice is not new nor is it confined simply to congress. As voters, citizens are often faced with complicated proposals on ballots sometimes linking things as remote as school bonds and street improvements.

This sort of hand-tying is legislative chicanery that can well defeat honest efforts. Issues should be proposed, challenged and judged on their own separate merits. Riders are politicking at its worst. Legislation of this type does nothing to lift the distrust many have for "politicians" and such methods can only increase the conviction these people have that too often politicians allow special interests to press too hard and too effectively against the will of the majority.

IN BUSINESS

In patronizing local businesses there are several seasonal services which blossom at about this time. Owner and chief labor force of these briskly moving summer enterprises is usually an alert young man impressive in his anxiety to please and be pleased with a small reimbursement.

The young tycoon will mow the lawn, wash the car, pull weeds, rout dandelions or eagerly display his worm digging talents.

These are small businesses and like all modest operations need a good deal of encouragement and good will to thrive. They need as well the customer's expectation of hard work conscientiously performed. When services are well rendered, the young business concerns will pridefully welcome compliments from clients.

As in the case of most budding careers the necessity of advertising demands more time and effort than the activities of business can well afford. So the youthful promoter hopefully depends upon his customers' satisfaction to speak for him where the advertising will help.

Remember your local businesses both large and small this summer but most of all remember your young businessmen, and tell your friends about them when they are good.

'These Days'

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY

THEY NEVER HAD IT SO GOOD

Professor Richard Hofstadter of Columbia University is having a tough time translating himself into a conservative. Apparently the cult of liberalism is proving as unpopular in the 1950's as the cult of fellow-travelling proved to be in the late 1940's. Men who live by labels often discover that their thinking has run away from the labels, so the liberal calls himself a conservative, and Professor Hofstadter calls conservatives, "pseudo-conservatives," whatever that may mean. He tries to tell what it means in a long article in "The American Scholar" but gets into an interesting tangle. For instance, he makes this point:

". . . After 20 years the New Deal liberals have quite unconsciously taken on the psychology of those who have entered into possession. Moreover, a large part of the New Deal public, the jobless, distracted and bewildered men of 1933, have in the course of the years found substantial places in society for themselves, have become home-owners, suburbanites and solid citizens. Many of them still keep the emotional commitments to the liberal dissent with which they grew up politically, but their social position is one of solid comfort. Among them the dominant tone has become one of satisfaction, even of a kind of conservatism. . . ."

Is that bad?

The history of the United States has been one of protest and rectification, of a struggle for a higher standard of living, of a constant rise of individuals from one social group to another. We are not a static society. We are a competitive society. We do not expect the poor to remain dispossessed; we expect them to move forward not in a struggle for existence but in an adventure in freedom.

That has been our story since the first settlers began to move westward, from New England to New York and Ohio, from Virginia to Kentucky and Tennessee and then westward until they reached the Pacific, and southward until they reached the Rio Grande.

The protesters of one generation become the conservatives of another. Were William Jennings Bryan alive, he would find that some of his most fantastic economic and social concepts are conservative today. The socialism of Norman Thomas became the New Deal of Franklin D. Roosevelt, which is no longer progressive in the period of Walter Reuther.

It is because conservatives pull in one direction and the protesters in many opposite directions that we are not a static or a revolutionary society. The quarrels among conservatives and radicals produce not conformity by a dynamism that functions progressively as long as there is equality of opportunity on the economic side and a lust for the better life on the social side.

The doctrinaire liberal is often appalled by prosperity when according to his notions there should be failure; by growth when he believes the frontiers have disappeared; by the strength of the capitalist system when he believes that it should have failed by now. He just does not understand how it is that dumb clucks do manage to put things together and make them run. The answer is that they do. And they do it because they want to get more of the good things of life for themselves and their families.

So when Professor Hofstadter worries about the "punitive reaction" of those whom he calls pseudo-conservatives, he talks nonsense. There is no such thing. He may be worried about a general desire to kick all Communists and their friends in the teeth, but that has to do with another subject. It is a normal response to betrayal. It is a characteristic American dislike for the citizen who prefers another country to his own. It can all be read in Edward Everett Hale's "The Man Without a Country," which was written in another era and is wholly unrelated to current events. The sentiment of that book persists. The feeling is that those who hate America ought to go to some place which they do not hate.

There are those who would confuse anti-Communism and anti-betrayal with anti-intellectualism and conformity. They assume that if they change the words, they change the facts. They assume for themselves a monopoly of intellectual disciplines which they do not possess to any greater degree than those whom they oppose. None of this really matters. What does matter is that the United States survives them all.

That Body of Yours

ANOTHER HELP FOR MENTAL PATIENTS

There are some mental patients who are quiet and willing to follow the doctors' and nurses' advice. And there also are many mental patients who are extremely difficult to manage. They upset the whole ward because of their overactivity, agitation and anxiety, frequently accompanied by delusions, hallucinations, and other symptoms which show that they are out of touch with their surroundings. To this later group, just nineteen in all, varying in age from 19 to 61, one of the new drugs, rauwolfia alkaloid reserpine, was administered.

The initial routine dosage is 5 mgm, injected into a muscle, and 3 mgm., by mouth was given in the beginning and adjusted to suit each individual patient. The length of the treatment varied from six to 35 days, depending upon how the patient reacted to the drug and what results were obtained.

Some of the side effects were: extrapyramidal syndrome, in which there is rigidity in the upper limbs, loss of expression in the face, and sometimes a shuffling gait; sleepiness; increase in appetite; flushing; chills, and trembling.

What was the result from the use of this new drug, reserpine? Reserpine had an effect upon the behavior and emotional activity of all the patients. Generally speaking, this effect was a definite reduction in agitated or overactive behavior and made the patients less troublesome and easier to manage in the ward. There was a general reduction in the patients' reactions to stimuli, even after the initial sleepiness had passed.

What about results in mental condition? In this angle, there were really no changes except possibly it reduced the severity and frequency of hallucinations and emotional disturbance.

Drs. J. S. Tyhurst and A. Richman, Montreal, who carried out this experiment, feel that all the patients showed improvement on this drug insofar as it reduced their overactivity, agitation, and severe emotional disturbance. As far as underlying personality problems and conflicts were concerned, there was no evidence that the drug had any direct or lasting effect.

To sum up: "The drug is definitely useful in reducing the acuteness and severity of the problems created in a psychiatric ward by overactive and disturbed patients, both for the patient's improvement in symptoms and for the ward in general. It makes it possible to observe the patient for a longer period without resorting to more strenuous forms of treatment such as electric shock. At the same time it is our feeling that the drug, in itself, has no lasting effect but allows time for diagnosis and a plan of treatment to be established."

Edson's Washington News Notebook

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

Emergency Press Headquarters, Operation Alert (NEA)—The U. S. Department of Labor has announced that the American Federation of Labor would give the government a "no strike" pledge in case this country were subjected to a real attack by atomic bombs.

The Department of State says it is likely there will be a meeting of Big Four foreign ministers in the week before the heads of state meet in Geneva on July 18.

The Treasury says Congress would be reconvened in special session in case the U. S. were subjected to a real atomic bomb attack. Congress would be asked to increase the debt limit, in case this action had not been taken before adjournment.

The Atomic Energy Commission announced that it still expected the Dixon-Yates contract to be fulfilled. In the event it is not carried out, AEC will still rely on the attorney general's opinion that it will have first call on all power produced by the Tennessee Valley Authority.

These four bulletins are not just handouts from government agencies prepared in advance as administration propaganda.

THESE FOUR EXCLUSIVE STATEMENTS, plus a few other minor news breaks given below, came as an unexpected bonus out of the three-day civil defense test on how the government would function if it was bombed out of Washington.

To find out how news could be obtained in such an emergency, this reporter and two colleagues, Roscoe Drummond of the New York Herald Tribune and William Stringer of the Christian Science Monitor threw a surprise test into the civil defense machinery.

We submitted a series of 12 questions to as many government department heads whose temporary offices were scattered in a 300-mile radius west of Washington for the evacuation and relocation test.

The results were far better than we expected. The results were even better than the government information chiefs expected. They had not figured on an fast curves of this kind being thrown at them. But they recognized that this was a good test of their emergency conditions.

At 2:30 p. m. on the first day of the exercise, we dropped our questions on the desk of Murray Snyder, assistant press secretary of the White House, who was in charge of press HQ.

SNYDER HAD TO RELAY the questions to "Quarterback," which was the code name for the government's Emergency Information Center. Herschel Schooley, Department of Defense information chief, was in charge there. He relayed the queries to the various temporary department headquarters in Virginia and Maryland.

Five of the questions were answered in four hours. Seven were answered in five hours. Ten were answered in 10 hours.

By contrast, it sometimes takes days to get an answer, even when all communication channels are open and fully operative.

This time, only two agencies conked out.

Office of Defense Mobilization was asked if the President would have authority to freeze prices and wages in a real emergency of this kind. No answer came back.

Department of Justice was asked if it would appeal to the Supreme Court the dismissal of key indictments in the Owen Lattimore perjury case. No answer came back.

The FBI was asked what special security measures it would take to deal with problems arising in a real emergency. It answered promptly, but the answer was the usual, "no comment."

Department of Defense was asked how many planes the Strategic Air Command had put in the air in this exercise. SAC sent back the word promptly that it was participating only in the evacuation exercise, and not in retaliatory maneuvers.

DEPARTMENT OF INTERIOR was asked if it would withdraw its request for authorization of the upper Colorado river project in case of a real emergency. It sent back word that this would depend on whether it could get priorities for material and manpower.

Department of Health Education and Welfare was asked what its assignments were in the simulated emergency. The reply was that it was still studying the problem and would report later. This was typical runaround, par for normal government operation.

Department of Agriculture was asked it it would distribute surplus foodstuffs and grain to bombed out areas. The answer was in effect, "yes" — if local surveys showed the need for it.

The White House was asked what positive results might be expected from the meeting between President Eisenhower and India's V. K. Krishna Menon. Press Secretary James C. Hagerty fell back on his earlier statement that the two would meet again.

Nobody need assume that the Western Foreign Ministers and heads of state will fail to point out the causes of tension. There will be public speeches and private conferences on that subject, for this is the heart of the peace problem of today.

The meeting here is serving to consolidate viewpoints and to bring the three Foreign Ministers into harmonious accord as to the best way to deal with the Geneva conference. That's the reason why they talk hopefully and confidently here about the dramatic impact which they expect the four-power meeting to have in stirring up the moral forces of the world. That's why there isn't much emphasis on "agreements" as such. For really no agreements are necessary. All that's necessary is for the Communists to stop their aggression, their infiltration, their coercion and their tyrannical behavior. That would mean "relaxation of tension" everywhere without so much as a written document to specify it.

If the aggressors will refrain from aggression and voluntarily become peaceful, then maybe the skeptics will believe that the miracle of peaceful co-existence might happen. It's that simple, despite the many hundreds of thousands of words in the speeches and the comments in the press at Moscow and elsewhere.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

I am going to volunteer as bodyguard for Edward P. Murphy, the federal judge from San Francisco, who sentenced the flying Finn twins, George and Charles, to a year in a prison where they could be "taught a trade and receive psychiatric treatment." The judge may not be scared, for he wrote bravely that "threats against life, abuse, vituperation, all of which have been heaped upon me largely by the cowardly who write anonymously," did not cause him "to deviate one iota" from his duty. I think I could dig up one of those psychiatrists who are now on call to pronounce people crazy for rejecting the deity of F. D. Roosevelt, to say that whoever carries on like that over "threats against life, abuse and vituperation" shows an exaggerated sense of persecution.

However, even if some board of psychiatrists should say that Murphy's concern meant something more than cheap self-pity, I would still insist that that is all it means. I have been getting that kind of mash-notes and phone calls for years and I wish to calm the judge, if need be. Whoever really means to do him dirt will neither write nor phone him a warning. Anyway, I will be right there by his side. I won't let anyone hurt you, Murphy.

This fellow is an interesting and, I insist on my opinion, slightly superior specimen of the federal judiciary. We accumulated a raffish roster of lame-ducks, loafers, courthouse hustlers and miscellaneous bums in this jurisprudence during the foul regime, and the scant aristocracy of mediocrities seem solonian by comparison. Even Murphy himself, viewed from the other side of a door, has some of the features of solon.

While I am at my self-inflicted task of standing between his honor and harm, I will teach him something about the English language. In an official copy of an order which he wrote in the Finn case, mailed out from the Department of Justice, he used "flaunt" where I would strongly recommend "flout." These words have nothing in common except four letters.

Murphy wrote first that the Finns had "flagrantly flaunted the laws of the United States." Having struck one foot in the base drum, he couldn't resist the temptation to repeat the spectacle so he wrote that their conduct led to "wanton flaunting of the law."

Judge, listen to teacher, the word "flaunt" means to wave, to flutter, to move ostentiously or display obtrusively.

You don't mean that these twins waved, fluttered, moved ostentatiously and/or displayed the laws of the United States do you, Murphy? There would be nothing deplorable in that.

But the verb to flout means to mock, insult, treat with contempt and/or sneer at. Is that what you meant, Solon?

Suppose you sit down and write "Dear teacher: Flaunt means wave, flutter, move ostentatiously and/or display obtrusively. Flout means to mock, insult, treat with contempt and/or sneer at. (Signed) Eddie Murphy." Write it 50 times, and you will never use "flaunt" in that context again, but God only knows what else you will come up with.

Murphy sent the Finn twins to a disgusting dump where the Prison Bureau segregates the foulest sexual degenerates. He sent them there for slapping handcuffs on a federal attorney in a smelly political conspiracy whereby the Department of Justice snatched back a C-46 which they had bought with $21,000 of their own money to run a private flying service. Their right to the plane was confirmed by other judges and there is no doubt about their title, but the Department of Justice swiped it from them so they pinched the U.S.D.A. under absolutely valid laws. This fellow was not even booked, still less tried, and the fact remains that the plane is the Finns' rightful property. Murphy doesn't do things by halves when he sets out to show himself up. His own education was no more than minimal for an habitual bureaucrat.

The Finn twins, who by his direction were to be taught a trade and given psychiatric treatment, both have degrees in phychology and George had three and one-half years and Charles two years of medicine. George served eight years as an air force flight instructor, experimental engineer in aviation and specialists in the development of the ejection seat for high-speed pilots which has saved many lives of little less value to the country, as a hazard, than Murphy's. Charles flew 68 combat missions as a bomber pilot and won a lot of decorations. After the war both flew in the Berlin air lift.

BIGGEST-SELLING BUICK OF ALL TIME

Maybe you'd better see for yourself why folks just won't do without this great car

PEOPLE say success makes success—but we say people make success, and how!

It's people—just like you—who are snowballing Buick sales this year to an all-time peak.

It's people—just like your neighbors down the street—who are snapping up these gorgeous new Buicks almost as fast as we get them from the factory, and causing Buick production to climb to new levels every month, to handle the unparalleled demand.

And it's people—just about from every walk of life—who keep Buick sales soaring without letup—and who have moved Buick more solidly than ever into the charmed circle of America's top best sellers.

But why? Why this phenomenal swing to Buick on the part of people who can choose any new car?

Because Buick's a buy—definitely.

And because it's a bold beauty that catches the eye and holds it—that's for sure.

And certainly because it's supremely level of ride—and a sweet joy to handle—and a mighty bundle of high-voltage V8 power to melt away the miles and the high hills.

But most of all, because Buick this year is a performer like no earth-bound vehicle ever was before...

Because Buick—and only Buick—has the airplane-principled magic of Variable Pitch Dynaflow* where you switch the pitch for big gas savings in cruising—or for whip-quick getaway response and acceleration when you need a sudden safety-surge.

It's sheer thrill, and pure pleasure, and a big boon to your gasoline budget—and you really ought to try it.

Come visit us soon—this week, at the latest—and see for yourself why this is the car folks just won't do without—the biggest-selling Buick of all time.

*Dynaflow Drive is standard on Roadmaster, optional at extra cost on other Series.

The Mature Parent

Needed: Human Fire Dept. To Fight Juvenile Fires

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

Tonight, on a big-city side street, a fire will blaze up in a kitchen. Somebody will rush to put in the alarm. In record time, trained people with modern equipment will arrive. By applying their special skills to the blaze, they will bring it under control—and extinguish it before it can engulf other people. They will render this public service to the private fire because it is a public hazard.

Tonight, on other side streets, other fires will break out.

One will flare up in a girl of 13 who will scream, "'Tramp' yourself! Lay off me, damp you, lay off me"—and run down her tenement home's stairs to the darkness and the admiring whistles of men at the corner saloon.

Down the block, another fire will erupt from a boy who will curse his father's alcoholic mumbles and shout, "Then tell him to shut his trap about where I get my money! I don't get none from him, do I?"

Nobody will put in an alarm.

No people with special, 20th century equipment will appear to get these fires under control—and arrange for them to be extinguished. So these private fires will smolder, corrupting. Tomorrow, next week, next month, a sudden draft of some minor frustration will whip them into the conflagration that engulfs other people.

The boy and the girl will commit the crimes that make their private fires the public hazard called juvenile delinquency.

Then—and only then, will the modern equipment be made available. Then only will the juvenile court's social workers and psychologists say to the children and their parents, "Tell us how you feel."

The problem of juvenile delinquency is old thinking. It is dependence upon old organization, dead method. It is the failure to realize family hate is a public hazard—and to provide acceptable, skilled, emergency public service to its correction.

Our police departments? Let's not be silly. To people like these, the Cop is the symbol of the "No!" He's the arm of the enemy Law. He's the Protector of the Other Fellow's Goods. He's the Workhouse and the Pen in uniform. The fact that he's an upstanding family man and church member in good standing to you and me doesn't change what he is to these people.

That's what's wrong. Police service cannot render this service. It possesses neither the skills nor the acceptability to render them.

So this column proposes the organization of a new public service a Family Emergency Division to be incorporated into the Health Departments of this nation's cities.

Let us compose it of social workers to operate with a subordinate police officer as teams of two. Let us announce that they are available by alarm to any strife-ridden parent or child. Let us make the alarm as compulsory as we make the notification of fire or contagious disease.

The problem is thinking in a rut. The modern, emergency, public service is imperative. We've got to get trained people into these blazing homes to prevent destruction—and arrange for follow-up by our neighborhood houses, youth agencies and psychological clinics.

The Mature Parent

Needed: Human Fire Dept. To Fight Juvenile Fires

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

Tonight, on a big-city side street, a fire will blaze up in a kitchen. Somebody will rush to put in the alarm. In record time, trained people with modern equipment will arrive. By applying their special skills to the blaze, they will bring it under control—and extinguish it before it can engulf other people. They will render this public service to the private fire because it is a public hazard.

Tonight, on other side streets, other fires will break out.

One will flare up in a girl of 13 who will scream, " 'Tramp' yourself! Lay off me, damp you, lay off me"—and run down her tenement home's stairs to the darkness and the admiring whistles of men at the corner saloon.

Down the block, another fire will erupt from a boy who will curse his father's alcoholic mumbles and shout, "Then tell him to shut his trap about where I get my money! I don't get none from him, do I?"

Nobody will put in an alarm.

No people with special, 20th century equipment will appear to get these fires under control—and arrange for them to be extinguished. So these private fires will smolder, corrupting. Tomorrow, next week, next month, a sudden draft of some minor frustration will whip them into the conflagration that engulfs other people.

The boy and the girl will commit the crimes that make their private fires the public hazard called juvenile delinquency.

Then—and only then, will the modern equipment be made available. Then only will the juvenile court's social workers and psychologists say to the children and their parents, "Tell us how you feel."

The problem of juvenile delinquency is old thinking. It is dependence upon old organization, dead method. It is the failure to realize family hate is a public hazard—and to provide acceptable, skilled, emergency public service to its correction.

Our police departments? Let's not be silly. To people like these, the Cop is the symbol of the "No!" He's the arm of the enemy Law. He's the Protector of the Other Fellow's Goods. He's the Workhouse and the Pen in uniform. The fact that he's an upstanding family man and church member in good standing to you and me doesn't change what he is to these people.

That's what's wrong. Police service cannot render this service. It possesses neither the skills nor the acceptability to render them.

So this column proposes the organization of a new public service a Family Emergency Division to be incorporated into the Health Departments of this nation's cities.

Let us compose it of social workers to operate with a subordinate police officer as teams of two. Let us announce that they are available by alarm to any strife-ridden parent or child. Let us make the alarm as compulsory as we make the notification of fire or contagious disease.

The problem is thinking in a rut. The modern, emergency, public service is imperative. We've got to get trained people into these blazing homes to prevent destruction—and arrange for follow-up by our neighborhood houses, youth agencies and psychological clinics.

He will play and discuss recordings of new music hitherto unheard in Woodstock. The program will include compositions by Ernest Kanitz, Sholon Secunda, Karl Weigl and Wally Weigl.

Mr. Schimmerling is presenting these events as a non-commercial enterprise; therefore, no admission will be charged. It is devoted to the promotion of contemporary music and other interesting music subjects and to further the development of Woodstock as a music center. It is expected that the population of Woodstock and surrounding communities will support this idea. No financial support is requested, however, but Mr. Schimmerling hopes for active cooperation and a good attendance at the recital.

The program planned for the coming summer is as follows: Saturday, July 9, at 8:15, Maverick Concert Hall—Czechoslovak and Yugoslav Folkmusic; lecture recital by H. A. Schimmerling. Performing artists: Ruth Cohn, Naomi Lieberman, Paula Neudlander, Gladys Tandler.

The series will be continued into September, programs to be announced.

Recording equipment is being loaned by Mr. Schimmerling for use during several of the evenings in the series, by Richard Burlingame of the Catskill Book and Record Shop.

Series of Lectures Will Be Presented

Woodstock, June 22—A series of 10 lectures by authors in connection with the writers workshop at Parnassus Square will be presented Saturday evenings throughout the summer it has been announced by Frances Dederick, director, and Joan Stowater, co-director. The schedule is as follows: July 2, David Davidson—The Poet and the Bourgeois or How to Stay Alive While Writing; July 9, Henry Morton Robinson—Problems of the Novelist; July 16, The Press of Woodstock—Round Table Discussion; July 23, George Joel of Dial Press—Is Publishing a Business; July 30, Ira Wolfert—Writing; August 6—Alf Evers—Writing for Children; August 13, Peter Neagee—Readings and Discussion of the Novel; August 20, Helen Wolfert—Poetry Readings; August 27, Ellen C. Philtine—On the Art of Collaboration; Sept. 3, to be announced. All of the lectures will begin at 8:30 p. m. There will be a small admission charge. E. Deborah Atkin is the instructor for the Writers Workshop.

The first speaker on July 2, is David Davidson, novelist and television playwright. His novels include The Steeper Cliff, The Hour of Truth, In Another Country, all published by Random House. They have also been published abroad in France, England, Italy, Australia and Denmark, and all have been printed in soft cover editions. Two were book club selections. He is also the author of 50 television plays, and is now working in the field of the one-hour original play, exclusively. His plays have been produced in recent years for the most part by the U. S. Steel Show, opening in 1953 with POW and the Elgin Hour. Other TV plays include Combat Medics, Family Crisis, The Sins of the Fathers, High Man, and Atomic Attack.

Previously a newspaperman and radio writer, Davidson, 47, has been writing professionally for 27 years. He was educated at the College of the City of New York and Columbia University School of Journalism. During the war he served with the Office of Inter-American Affairs in South America and Washington on propaganda work. He was also with SHAEF and the Third Army in Germany in 1945-6, helping to locate anti-Nazi editors and publishers and set up six democratic German newspapers in Munich, Berchtesgaden, Gammisch-Partenkirchen and elsewhere. He interrogated 2,500 Germans and traveled 25,000 miles around Bavaria and lost 25 pounds.

Out of this experience, as a civilian specialist with the Army came the novel The Steeper Cliff. Out of South American experiences came The Hour of Truth. In Another Country was a reflection, after 20 years, on a student year in Europe as a Pulitzer Traveling Scholar from the School of Journalism.

Mr. Davidson is married to Hilde Abel, author of three novels.

His topic for Saturday, July 2, beginning at 8:30 p. m., will be, The Poet and the Bourgeois, or How to Stay Alive While Writing. Proceeds will go for a scholarship at the Writers Workshop to a junior high school student for the best essay, judged by regent exam. There will also be a scholarship to an art student, based on class average, and has already been awarded to Ann Rider of 75 Lounsbury Place, Kingston. She will take the art course at Parnassus Square.

Village Notes

Woodstock, June 22—Mr. and Mrs. C. Bigelow Sayr of Flemington, N. J., are the parents of twin boys born Friday at Flemington Hospital. Mrs. Sayr is the former Jan Calamar of Woodstock. The twins have been named Cotter Ward Sayr and C. Bigelow Sayr, 3rd.

Two bus loads of wives of firemen attending the convention in Kingston arrived in Woodstock Friday afternoon. They were met at the corner of Routes 375 and 28 by a committee consisting of John Pike, Ed Bauman and Warren Hutty, who accompanied the group to the Art Students League and to the village green where the ladies visited the various shops. Mr. Hutty rode in the sheriff's car which escorted the buses. The group was greeted at the village green by Harry Alpern, president of the Woodstock Merchants. While the buses were parked in front of the Dutch Reformed Church, the Rev. Harvey I. Todd greeted the group and the chimes of the church were played. They also inspected the show at the Art Gallery and later went to Mt. Tremper and further on for a view of the reservoir. There were about 75 women in the group.

Mrs. Ed Myer is at the Kingston Hospital.

Christian Metzger has returned to his home from Benedictine Hospital.

Mrs. Mildred Webster of Larchmont has purchased the homes of Mrs. Albert Montgomery, Ann Herlt on the Ohayo Mt. road and the Redein place on Route 212.

Business Association Elects New Directors

Woodstock, June 22—The annual meeting of the Woodstock Business Association was held at Pinecrest Lodge on Monday night. From the 15 names submitted by the nominating committee and from the floor the following were elected as directors: Harry Alpern, Ed Bauman, Dave Bird, Joseph Deutsch, William Hand, Warren Hutty, Mary Motalese, Floyd Simmons, Fred Ohl and Joseph Holdridge, Sr.

There will be a meeting within the next few days of the directors for the election of officers.

The Information Center will be open daily starting the end of this month.

Food Sale Listed

Woodstock, June 22 — The ladies of the Woodstock Dutch Reformed Church will hold a food sale Saturday starting at 10 a. m. in front of the church.

Boy Scout Fund Drive Launched in Village

Woodstock, June 22—Preparations are well underway for the drive to solicit funds to keep Boy Scouting a going concern in this village. During the past week Robert Gordon and the Rev. Harvey I. Todd, co-chairmen, have been rounding up captains to find the folks who will do the house to house solicitation. These are: Clifford Carnright, William Walsh, Richard Short, Griffin Herrick, Dudley G. Summers, Frank Lynch, Charles Rapp, Edgar Baker, Mrs. Montcena DeWitt and Frank Benson. The time set for the campaign is July 5 to 11, and on the evening of the 5th the workers will gather at the Woodstock Dutch Reformed Church for a "kick-off" meal. There is a great deal of enthusiasm in the effort this year, the Rev. Mr. Todd reports. The same drive is being made at the same time in Greene and Ulster counties outside the Kingston area.

Boy Scouting has made such splendid progress in recent years that at last the Rip Van Winkle Council has found it necessary to engage another trained worker for the professional staff, Eugene Johnson, who is assigned to the Western District of which Woodstock is a part. Now the professional staff consists of George Dennis, executive; Francis Teel, field executive and Mr. Johnson. Each one of these has certain sections of Greene and Ulster counties in which he services the work of Boy Scouting. This spring an Explorer Post sponsored by the Rotary Club of Woodstock, has been organized and with the Cub Pack sponsored by the Square Club and the Scout Troop sponsored by the Reformed Church, will require more servicing on the part of the council organization through the executives and others. Naturally all of this requires more funds, and hence the enthusiasm and determination to make the budget and repeat the story of progress, so splendidly achieved since the war.

He was educated at the College of the City of New York and Columbia University School of Journalism. During the war he served with the Office of Inter-American Affairs in South America and Washington on propaganda work. He was also with SHAEF and the Third Army in Germany in 1945-6, helping to locate anti-Nazi editors and publishers and set up six democratic German newspapers in Munich, Berchtesgaden, Gammisch-Partenkirchen and elsewhere. He interrogated 2,500 Germans and traveled 25,000 miles around Bavaria and lost 25 pounds.

Out of this experience, as a civilian specialist with the Army came the novel The Steeper Cliff. Out of South American experiences came The Hour of Truth. In Another Country was a reflection, after 20 years, on a student year in Europe as a Pulitzer Traveling Scholar from the School of Journalism.

Mr. Davidson is married to Hilde Abel, author of three novels.

His topic for Saturday, July 2, beginning at 8:30 p. m., will be, The Poet and the Bourgeois, or How to Stay Alive While Writing. Village Notes

Woodstock, June 22—Mr. and Mrs. C. Bigelow Sayr of Flemington, N. J., are the parents of twin boys born Friday at Flemington Hospital. Mrs. Sayr is the former Jan Calamar of Woodstock. The twins have been named Cotter Ward Sayr and C. Bigelow Sayr, 3rd.

Two bus loads of wives of firemen attending the convention in Kingston arrived in Woodstock Friday afternoon. They were met at the corner of Routes 375 and 28 by a committee consisting of John Pike, Ed Bauman and Warren Hutty, who accompanied the group to the Art Students League and to the village green where the ladies visited the various shops. Mr. Hutty rode in the sheriff's car which escorted the buses. The group was greeted at the village green by Harry Alpern, president of the Woodstock Merchants. While the buses were parked in front of the Dutch Reformed Church, the Rev. Harvey I. Todd greeted the group and the chimes of the church were played. They also inspected the show at the Art Gallery and later went to Mt. Tremper and further on for a view of the reservoir. There were about 75 women in the group.

Mrs. Ed Myer is at the Kingston Hospital.

Christian Metzger has returned to his home from Benedictine Hospital.

Mrs. Mildred Webster of Larchmont has purchased the homes of Mrs. Albert Montgomery, Ann Herlt on the Ohayo Mt. road and the Redein place on Route 212.

Boy Scout Fund Drive Launched in Village

Woodstock, June 22—Preparations are well underway for the drive to solicit funds to keep Boy Scouting a going concern in this village. During the past week Robert Gordon and the Rev. Harvey I. Todd, co-chairmen, have been rounding up captains to find the folks who will do the house to house solicitation. These are: Clifford Carnright, William Walsh, Richard Short, Griffin Herrick, Dudley G. Summers, Frank Lynch, Charles Rapp, Edgar Baker, Mrs. Montcena DeWitt and Frank Benson. The time set for the campaign is July 5 to 11, and on the evening of the 5th the workers will gather at the Woodstock Dutch Reformed Church for a "kick-off" meal. There is a great deal of enthusiasm in the effort this year, the Rev. Mr. Todd reports. The same drive is being made at the same time in Greene and Ulster counties outside the Kingston area.

Boy Scouting has made such splendid progress in recent years that at last the Rip Van Winkle Council has found it necessary to engage another trained worker for the professional staff, Eugene Johnson, who is assigned to the Western District of which Woodstock is a part. Now the professional staff consists of George Dennis, executive; Francis Teel, field executive and Mr. Johnson. Each one of these has certain sections of Greene and Ulster counties in which he services the work of Boy Scouting. This spring an Explorer Post sponsored by the Rotary Club of Woodstock, has been organized and with the Cub Pack sponsored by the Square Club and the Scout Troop sponsored by the Reformed Church, will require more servicing on the part of the council organization through the executives and others. Naturally all of this requires more funds, and hence the enthusiasm and determination to make the budget and repeat the story of progress, so splendidly achieved since the war.

Says Employers To Realize Saving

Troy, N. Y., June 22 (AP)—The chairman of the State Workmen's Compensation in the state were "not only possible, but probable."

Miss Angela R. Parisi, in an address prepared for delivery at a Greater Troy Chamber of Commerce luncheon said "On July 1, New York state employers will again realize an annual saving in excess of $41,000,000 in workmen's comensation insurance premiums."

She said it would be the second time within 12 months that such a reduction had been approved.

SHE SAID ALSO that workmen's compensation benefits paid to workers in the state during the same period "were among the highest of any state in the nation."

"Specifically," she said, "the reductions were made possible because of:

"1. Improved claims and hearing procedures

"2. Effective accident prevention, and

"3. Use of latest medical advances, including rehabilitation."

She added: "Further reductions in the cost of workmen's compensation in New York state are not only possible, but probable, if this mutual trust and cooperation continues and the new look in workmen's compensation is wholeheartedly supported."

Financial and Commercial

New York, June 22 (AP)—Motors and railroads excited the most buying interest today in the stock market in the midst of a general advance.

Throughout the list, gains ran to between 1 and 2 points, and some individual issues went up even more. Losses ranged to around a point.

Trading was quite active and neared the three million mark. Yesterday's total was 2,720,000 shares with the market moderately higher.

MOTORS and railroads held the key spot in the advance, and they had able assistance from many other divisions including the steels, oils, coppers, chemicals, machine tools, and a long list of individual issues.

Aircrafts didn't do very well, and the utilities and building materials were neglected by buyers.

Federal Raise Is Agreed

Washington, June 22 (AP)—Senate-House conferees agreed today on a bill raising salaries of 1,073,262 federal employes 7½ per cent retroactive to March 1.

The Senate conferees obtained only a few minor increases in the raises voted by the House. The Senate originally had passed a 10 per cent pay increase measure! the House on Monday voted for 7½ per cent.

SOME OF the conferees said they had been advised President Eisenhower would accept no more than 7½ per cent.

The increases, which will total about 328 million dollars annually, apply to 983,057 classified civil service employes and about 90,205 related workers.

Sen. Olin D. Johnston (D.-S.C.) had said earlier the Senate conferees would fight to give the rank-and-file federal employes an 8 per cent pay raise.

The half million postal workers already have been given a raise averaging 8 per cent.

Says Employers To Realize Saving

Troy, N. Y., June 22 (AP)—The chairman of the State Workmen's Compensation in the state were "not only possible, but probable."

Miss Angela R. Parisi, in an address prepared for delivery at a Greater Troy Chamber of Commerce luncheon said "On July 1, New York state employers will again realize an annual saving in excess of $41,000,000 in workmen's comensation insurance premiums."

She said it would be the second time within 12 months that such a reduction had been approved.

SHE SAID ALSO that workmen's compensation benefits paid to workers in the state during the same period "were among the highest of any state in the nation."

"Specifically," she said, "the reductions were made possible because of:

"1. Improved claims and hearing procedures

"2. Effective accident prevention, and

"3. Use of latest medical advances, including rehabilitation."

She added: "Further reductions in the cost of workmen's compensation in New York state are not only possible, but probable, if this mutual trust and cooperation continues and the new look in workmen's compensation is wholeheartedly supported."

Financial and Commercial

New York, June 22 (AP)—Motors and railroads excited the most buying interest today in the stock market in the midst of a general advance.

Throughout the list, gains ran to between 1 and 2 points, and some individual issues went up even more. Losses ranged to around a point.

Trading was quite active and neared the three million mark. Yesterday's total was 2,720,000 shares with the market moderately higher.

MOTORS and railroads held the key spot in the advance, and they had able assistance from many other divisions including the steels, oils, coppers, chemicals, machine tools, and a long list of individual issues.

Aircrafts didn't do very well, and the utilities and building materials were neglected by buyers.

Federal Raise Is Agreed

Washington, June 22 (AP)—Senate-House conferees agreed today on a bill raising salaries of 1,073,262 federal employes 7½ per cent retroactive to March 1.

The Senate conferees obtained only a few minor increases in the raises voted by the House. The Senate originally had passed a 10 per cent pay increase measure; the House on Monday voted for 7½ per cent.

SOME OF the conferees said they had been advised President Eisenhower would accept no more than 7½ per cent.

The increases, which will total about 328 million dollars annually, apply to 983,057 classified civil service employes and about 90,205 related workers.

Sen. Olin D. Johnston (D.-S.C.) had said earlier the Senate conferees would fight to give the rank-and-file federal employes an 8 per cent pay raise.

The half million postal workers already have been given a raise averaging 8 per cent.

Jacksonville Beach, Fla. (AP)—This town's first parking meters were installed last year before the ordinance authorizing them became effectiye. By the time the law took effect, conscientious parkers had poured over $300 into the machines. Since the money was collected without authorization of law, the city donated it to the March of Dimes. 1,426 Persons Take Saugerties X-Rays

A total of 1,426 persons from industries, businesses and others in Saugerties had their chest X-rayed Thursday and Friday, while the mobile unit was in Saugerties.

Miss Katherine Murphy, executive secretary of the Ulster County TB and Health Association, in reporting the total number X-rayed, said that the response of employes was very good and that the cooperation of the industrial managers and business men was excellent. Several owners of industries in Saugerties and in Glasco reported almost 100 per cent response by their employes. In receiving the report, Dr. Dudley W. Hargrave, commissioner of the Ulster County Department of Health, which sponsored the X-ray survey, was much pleased with the response.

The Powers X-ray unit of Glen Cove was provided by the Ulster County TB and Health Association, with X-rays financed through Christmas Seals Funds.

DR. HARGRAVE and Miss Murphy expressed their deep appreciation to the various people in industry and business and others who helped to make the survey a success. The Chamber of Commerce, the Lions Club, the Rotary Club, the Saugerties Town Board, the Newspapers and Radio Station, the Public Health Nursing Committee, the Girls Community Club, the Young Adults Civic Club, were among the many groups and individuals who assisted and who helped to make the free X-ray survey known to the people of the Town of Saugerties.

Following the development of the Chest Films at the Powers Studios, Dr. Herbert Schwartz, Medical Director of the Ulster County TB Hospital, will read the films for tuberculosis, certain heart conditions, tumor of the lung, and other chest abnormalities.

Reports of the X-rays will be mailed to individuals who were X-rayed. Persons with abnormalities will be asked to report to their family physician to study further conditions found in the survey. Public Health Nurses, working in the township of Saugerties, will make follow-up visits on those persons where chest conditions have been found, and where the family physician so desires this public health service.

Premeter Revenue

Jacksonville Beach, Fla. (AP)—This town's first parking meters were installed last year before the ordinance authorizing them became effective. By the time the law took effect, conscientious parkers had poured over $300 into the machines. Since the money was collected without authorization of law, the city donated it to the March of Dimes. Now the situation has been repeated with 200 more meters. On the date they were supposed to go into operation, officials found they already had collected $164.35.

1,426 Persons Take Saugerties X-Rays

A total of 1,426 persons from industries, businesses and others in Saugerties had their chest X-rayed Thursday and Friday, while the mobile unit was in Saugerties.

Miss Katherine Murphy, executive secretary of the Ulster County TB and Health Association, in reporting the total number X-rayed, said that the response of employes was very good and that the cooperation of the industrial managers and business men was excellent. Several owners of industries in Saugerties and in Glasco reported almost 100 per cent response by their employes. In receiving the report, Dr. Dudley W. Hargrave, commissioner of the Ulster County Department of Health, which sponsored the X-ray survey, was much pleased with the response.

The Powers X-ray unit of Glen Cove was provided by the Ulster County TB and Health Association, with X-rays financed through Christmas Seals Funds.

DR. HARGRAVE and Miss Murphy expressed their deep appreciation to the various people in industry and business and others who helped to make the survey a success. The Chamber of Commerce, the Lions Club, the Rotary Club, the Saugerties Town Board, the Newspapers and Radio Station, the Public Health Nursing Committee, the Girls Community Club, the Young Adults Civic Club, were among the many groups and individuals who assisted and who helped to make the free X-ray survey known to the people of the Town of Saugerties.

Following the development of the Chest Films at the Powers Studios, Dr. Herbert Schwartz, Medical Director of the Ulster County TB Hospital, will read the films for tuberculosis, certain heart conditions, tumor of the lung, and other chest abnormalities.

Reports of the X-rays will be mailed to individuals who were X-rayed. Persons with abnormalities will be asked to report to their family physician to study further conditions found in the survey. Public Health Nurses, working in the township of Saugerties, will make follow-up visits on those persons where chest conditions have been found, and where the family physician so desires this public health service.

Navy Project Blast Fatal To 2 at Saratoga Springs

Saratoga Springs, N. Y., June 22 (AP)—Two men identified as junior engineers were burned fatally in a chemical explosion yesterday on a security-cloaked navy research project at the Malta Test Station.

The building on the test site, about 10 miles south of here, later was sealed off, and officials connected with the project withheld details of the blast.

The dead were Robert Gill, about 23, of Philadelphia, Pa., and Norman Bruce, 23, of Worcester, Mass., employes of the Olin Mathieson Co. of Baltimore. Dr. William J. Hickey, a Saratoga county coroner, said the men died of second-degree chemical burns.

Four persons suffered minor injuries in the accident. They were discharged after hospital treatment. Another group of workers, protected by a blast wall, escaped injury.

Capt. T. G. Reamy, navy inspector at the site, said the Mathieson Company was conducting a fuel research project for the Naval Bureau of Aeronautics.

Reamy said the building probably would not be opened for an investigation for about 48 hours. The cause of the blast was not determined, he said.

Reamy identified the accident, which occurred at 1:10 p. m., as a chemical explosion. The inside of the building was damaged considerably, he said.

Gill and Bruce were employed as junior engineers, or technicians, the naval officer declared. The two men had been living at nearby Saratoga Lake.

The project on which they were working was "tapering off," Reamy said, and was to have been completed by the end of June.

The test station is an army ordinance facility, operated by the General Electric Co. It is heavily guarded. The Mathieson Company occupied a building that the army had used in guided missile and rocket testing until a year ago, Reamy said.

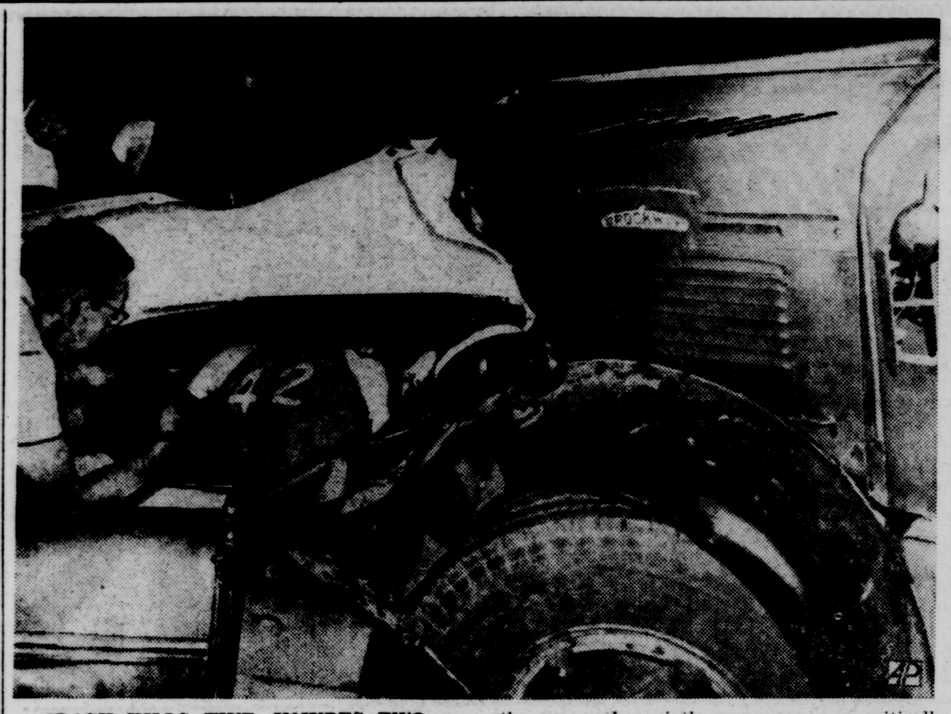
Empire Markets Plans Tuition for Nurses

Schenectady, N. Y., June 22 (AP)—Empire Markets plans to pay the tuition of any employe's daughter who enters nursing training.

Henry Schaffer, president of the 39-store chain, announced the project yesterday. He said it was designed to encourage young women to become nurses.

Schaffer said tuition would be paid at hospital nursing schools in cities where the cmpany operated any of its Empire supermarkets or Schaffer stores.

The first to receive the scholarships were Sheila Coughlin, 19, of Beacon, and Leslie Lois Richter, 19, of Albany.



CRASH KILLS FIVE, INJURES TWO — Victims lie pinned in a car which was demolished in a head-on crash with a truck near Somerville, N. J., the night of June 20. Four young men and a teen-age girl were killed in the car and a sixth passenger was critically hurt. The driver of the truck, loaded with 10-inch sewer pipe, was only slightly injured. This Is Year to Act On Highway Problem

Ithaca, N. Y., June 22 (AP)—The State Public Works superintendent says 1955 is the "year of decision" on New York's highway problems.

"Either we're going to make an all-out effort now to tackle and solve our highway problems or we'll be obliged to patch and piece and improvise, leaving it for the next fellow or the next generation to get us out of the highway mess we're in," Johnson said last night.

Johnson told highway superintendents attending a dinner at Cornell University that Gov. Harriman's administration "is determined to see that all the highways in our state are brought up to modern-day standards."

The superintendent urged passage of legislation to increase federal highway aid to the state and approval by the voters next fall of a 750-million-dollar bond issue for highway improvement.

Police Are . . .

"I have been in business in this city for over 20 years, and never before have I seen the traffic controlled in such an efficient manner during the parade."

BURT LESTER of F. B. Lester, Wallkill, dealer in fire-fighting equipment wrote:

"Just a note to give you and your police department a little pat on the back for the way they handled the firemen's parade last Saturday. Mrs. Lester and I were at an important corner where there were plenty of problems. At all times the officers were courteous and efficient."

So He Honked His Horn

Glen Burnie, Md., June 22 (AP)—Otts Morley's power mower got away from him and went chugging across Chain Highway all by itself. Morley said a motorist narrowly missed hitting the wandering mower, then reacted in the fashion of annoyed motorists around the globe. He honked his horn at it.

Jaycees Parade, Ask U.S. Aid Schools, Check Crime

Atlanta, June 22 (AP)—Crowds lined Peachtree street here today to watch members of the U. S. Junior Chamber of Commerce strut their stuff. The parade has been billed as the largest in the city's history.

The Jaycees have already set one record here: Between 8,000 and 9,000 delegates showed up for their 36th annual convention.

Publicists for the organization say the parade will rank as the third or fourth largest ever staged in this country by a single organization.

FROM MOST of the elaborate state floats souvenirs representing something for which the state is famous will be tossed to the crowd.

Two thousand silver dollars will be flung to the crowds from the Nevada float. Hawaii will toss off 5,000 orchids and 5,000 leis.

Florida will feature its oranges; Wisconsin its famed cheese; Virginia and Georgia, peanuts.

Tennessee has an 80-piece Davey Crockett Band for the parade. Mississippi will feature the world's largest Confederate flag, and Oregon will parade a Douglas fir log 32-feet long and 6 feet in diameter.

FORTY-FOUR floats, 20 bands and 46 marching units were ready for the two and a half hour affair.

The convention's opening business sesion is scheduled for today. The Jaycees board of directors yesterday considered proposed resolutions, several of which are expected to reach the convention floor at the opening session.

Among them are resolutions endorsing federal aid to education and one proposing a full-scale congressional inquiry into crime in sports.

LISTED AS the principal speaker at the business session today was Leo Cherne, president of Research Institute of America and chairman of the international rescue committee.

State caucuses which began last night continued tonight as candidates for top Jaycee offices wound up their campaigns. Elections are tomorrow.

The four candidates for president are Edwin H. May Jr., of Hartford, Conn.; Hugh McKenna of Lincoln, Neb.; Howard E. Norris of Madison, Wis., and Van Richardson of Greenwood, Miss.

The outgoing president is Lamar Buckner of Ogden, Utah.

Effect of Rising Wages and Prices Is Worring Steel Firms

Labor, Business Fear Compromise Won't Be Easy

New York, June 22 (AP)—Steel companies are "worried about the inflationary effect of rising wages and prices," The Iron Age, National Metalworking Weekly, said today.

"Steel wage negotiations get down to the facts of life this week," said the publication. "And they as just as tough as they ever were. Before the shouting is over, both sides will be forced to make a tough compromise."

WITH STEEL wages expected to go up about 10 or 15 cents an hour, compensating price increases will average $4.50 a ton, Iron Age estimated.

"Steel labor and management are not too far apart on their ideas of what the final settlement will be," it said. "Both are realistic enough to know that original offers and demands are just the opening gun for down-to-earth bargaining. But the compromise will not come easy. Both sides have their troubles."

IRON AGE said the steel companies know that President David J. McDonald of the CIO United Steel Workers "will be back for more next year. And they also know that higher labor costs can only be paid for by higher prices."

In the current talks, the weekly said, McDonald will press for all the traffic can bear because "he wants to outshine the auto workers on wages, and he has got internal political problems that can be eased by continuing success at the bargaining table." Also, Iron Age declared, "this is his chance to get a healthy wage boost without compromising on other interests; next year he'll have the guaranteed annual wage . . ."

BESIDES rising costs, Iron Age said, "steel producers also face the necessity of financing another round of capacity expansion. The industry realizes that present capacity is not enough to handle peak civilian requirements with a safe cushion for unexpected defense needs. The current boom, based almost entirely on civilian demand, has forced near-capacity operations without making an appreciable dent in order backlogs."

Effect of Rising Wages and Prices Is Worring Steel Firms

Labor, Business Fear Compromise Won't Be Easy

New York, June 22 (AP)—Steel companies are "worried about the inflationary effect of rising wages and prices," The Iron Age, National Metalworking Weekly, said today.

"Steel wage negotiations get down to the facts of life this week," said the publication. "And they as just as tough as they ever were. Before the shouting is over, both sides will be forced to make a tough compromise."

WITH STEEL wages expected to go up about 10 or 15 cents an hour, compensating price increases will average $4.50 a ton, Iron Age estimated.

"Steel labor and management are not too far apart on their ideas of what the final settlement will be," it said. "Both are realistic enough to know that original offers and demands are just the opening gun for down-to-earth bargaining. But the compromise will not come easy. Both sides have their troubles."

WHEN UNEXPECTED VISITORS ARRIVE

A wife asks: "If friends should pay us an unexpected visit just as my husband and I are about to go to the movies, could they be offended if I ask them to come back another time, or must we stay home and entertain them?"

If the movie is one that you especially want to see and it is playing just that one night, you could say, "John and I were just on our way to the Bijou to see. . . . Tonight is the last night it is being shown here and we do want very much to see it. Wouldn't you and Henry like to see it too?" If they say no, it would not be rude to go and ask them to come another evening.

Flowers for Young Girl

Dear Mrs. Post: Will you please tell me the proper flowers to send to a fifteen-year-old girl who has asked me to go with her to a dance? I had thought of sending an orchid but my mother tells me that orchids are not for young girls. Is this true, and if so, what kind would be most suitable?

Answer: Your mother is right. A small bouquet of sweetpeas, lily of the valley or sweetheart roses would be most suitable. It would be a good idea to call the girl and ask her the color of her dress and then get a flower that will be becoming with it.

Is She Miss or Mrs.?

Dear Mrs. Post: From time to time I receive business letters from women who sign their names as Mary Brown, Jane Greene, etc., with no title to indicate their status. In answering such letters, what is the correct salutation? Should I begin "Dear Miss . . ." or would it be better to say "Dear Madam."

Answer: Unless the signature "Mary Brown" has "Mrs. John Brown" in parenthesis either to the left or under it, you will be correct in assuming that it is the signature of Miss Brown.

Do you know your ABC's in manners? Mrs. Post has written leaflet E-18, "An Etiquette Test," which includes most frequently asked questions. Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail. WHEN UNEXPECTED VISITORS ARRIVE

A wife asks: "If friends should pay us an unexpected visit just as my husband and I are about to go to the movies, could they be offended if I ask them to come back another time, or must we stay home and entertain them?"

If the movie is one that you especially want to see and it is playing just that one night, you could say, "John and I were just on our way to the Bijou to see. . . . Tonight is the last night it is being shown here and we do want very much to see it. Wouldn't you and Henry like to see it too?" If they say no, it would not be rude to go and ask them to come another evening.

Flowers for Young Girl

Dear Mrs. Post: Will you please tell me the proper flowers to send to a fifteen-year-old girl who has asked me to go with her to a dance? I had thought of sending an orchid but my mother tells me that orchids are not for young girls. Is this true, and if so, what kind would be most suitable?

Answer: Your mother is right. A small bouquet of sweetpeas, lily of the valley or sweetheart roses would be most suitable. It would be a good idea to call the girl and ask her the color of her dress and then get a flower that will be becoming with it.

Is She Miss or Mrs.?

Dear Mrs. Post: From time to time I receive business letters from women who sign their names as Mary Brown, Jane Greene, etc., with no title to indicate their status. In answering such letters, what is the correct salutation? Should I begin "Dear Miss . . ." or would it be better to say "Dear Madam."

Answer: Unless the signature "Mary Brown" has "Mrs. John Brown" in parenthesis either to the left or under it, you will be correct in assuming that it is the signature of Miss Brown.

Here's real proof that SWIV is one of the best shampoos you can buy:

(1) Leading beauticians use and recommend Swiv.

(2) Swiv contains a revolutionary new conditioner called Lustrezol. This conditioner is so pure that it dissolves in water. Lustrezol also possesses substantivity, that is, it is absorbed and held by the hair in much the same manner that a sponge absorbs and holds water. The excess Lustrezol which remains after a shampooing is removed during the normal water rinsing — as a result your hair is never dry or sticky, but is always soft, manageable and so shiny and so silky smooth.

(3) Swiv is so pure that it won't separate or cloud. A simple test for purity is to place a bottle of Swiv and some other leading brand of shampoo in the freezing compartment of your refrigerator overnight. See how crystal-clear Swiv remains and how the other brand has separated or clouded.

When you use Swiv, you have the distinction of being one of the first to use a shampoo which is years ahead of other shampoos—because Swiv contains Lustrezol, the conditioner that is far superior to lanolin—And remember, Swiv is backed up by 5½ years development by research chemists.

Swiv for normal, dry and oily hair is available at all drugstores and leading beauty shops in the Kingston area.

Union Asks Harriman To Probe Prison Move

Albany, N. Y., June 22 (AP)—A representative of an AFL Public Employes Union has asked Gov. Harriman to investigate what he terms "anti-union acts" by Warden Wilfred L. Denno of Sing Sing prison.

Robert Lewis, attorney for Council 50, State, County and Municipal Employes Union, told Harriman in a telegram yesterday that Denno had discharged prison guard Edward Healy after the man had joined a union.

There was no comment from Harriman's office.

Healy was fired June 15 after joining Sing Sing Correction Officers Local 143, Lewis said. He added that "circumstances lead us to believe Healy was fired . . . because of his union membership."

Rare Disease

Butte, Mont. (AP) — Afibrinogenemiz, a blood disease so rare it has been reported only 23 times in modern medical history, killed a Butte boy. The attending physician said the boy lived only 18 hours. About two hours after birth began to bleed from the folds of his skin and from all the body openings. Despite use of a blood coagulate rushed to Butte by state patrolmen from Great Falls, 156 miles away, he died. He was the first son of Mr. and Mrs. John Sullivan, Butte.

State PW Dept. To Discuss All Workers Over 70

Albany, N. Y., June 22 (AP)—The State Public Works Department intends to dismiss all employes who are 70 years old or over.

A department spokesman says the plan is aimed at retiring manual laborers considered too old for jobs requiring physical exertion.

The dismissal timetable, disclosed yesterday, calls for dropping workers aged 80 and over by June 30, those 75 through 79 by Sept. 30 and those 70 through 74 by Dec. 31.

Gov. Harriman commented that the policy was "a departmental decision in line with the responsibility for safety," he said "the principle of retirement at 70 for employes who have retirement benefits is recognized in the state law."

THE NEW PLAN came to light while Harriman was urging a Citizens Advisory Committee to find solutions to problems of the aging in New York state.

Harriman told the 46-member Citizens Committee that many workers were forced by their employers to retire while they still had many useful years left.

The public works policy was outlined in a memorandum, dated June 16, from William S. Welch, department personnel director, to division chiefs and engineers.

Besides calling for dismissal of persons 70 and over, the memo asserted that "except in outstanding cases, selection of employes for positions requiring manual effort that may involve physical exertion should be limited to persons 60 years of age and under."

THE DEPARTMENT spokesman said yesterday that most of the workers to be dropped from the payroll had been kept on until now because they were not members of the State Employes Retirement System.

Now that they are eligible for social security benefits, he said, the department feels it is time to separate them from service.

The department was unable to estimate how many employes would be affected.

The spokesman said that Harriman's consultant on problems of the aging, Philip M. Kaiser, had been informed. He said he assumed Kaiser had approved the action.

The new policy does not apply to employes with tenure, who are required by law to retire at 70.

El Paso Cuts Segregation

El Paso, Tex., June 22 (AP)—The El Paso school board voted last night 6-1 to abolish segregation in the public schools. El Paso thus became the first major Texas city to end segregation in accordance with the historic Supreme Court decisions.

Jehovah's Witnesses Holding World Session

Chicago, June 22 (AP)—Thousands of Jehovah's Witnesses assembled today for the first of a series of regional meetings throughout the world.

The five-day assembly is at Comiskey Park, home of the Chicago White Sox. Meanwhile, members of the sect are engaging in a house-to-house and street preaching campaign to invite Chicagoans to attend their sessions.

Nathan H. Knorr, president of the Witnesses International Directive Agency, has arranged to address each session at the ball park.

For the next nine weeks Knorr will fly to other meetings to address an expected 300,000 members of the sect from 160 countries. After Chicago the meetings will be in Vancouver, Los Angeles, Dallas, New York, London, Paris, Rome, Nurenberg, Stockholm and The Hague. Each of the meetings will extend over five days.

Boiceville Home

Fire Department said it seemed a "logical possibility" that lightning had struck the dwelling. This could not be verified, however.

A resident of the area reported flames in the cottage about 5:30 a. m. and the Olive Fire Department sent its equipment racing to the scene. Chief Fox said his first truck arrived perhaps 10 minutes after the call but found the dwelling completely involved.

Firemen "knocked the fire down" with about 4,800 gallons of water from its trucks, Chief Fox said. The interior had been completely gutted, however. Only the side walls and back of the dwelling remained standing.

Each of three trucks at the scene threw 1,000 gallons on the fire, and a tanker its 800 gallons. One of the trucks was dispatched to the station to refill. This water was also thrown on the flames. Chief Fox said there was no other water "within reasonable distance." The cottage could not have been saved anyway, Chief Fox pointed out.

IT IS BELIEVED that lightning may have struck the cottage during a severe thunderstorm which broke over the area about 4 a. m.

Chief Fox estimated damage at approximately $7,500.

Three of the Olive Fire Department's four companys were dispatched to the fire. Company 4, located in the Krumville-Samsonville area, stood by at the station. Company 1, located at Olive Bridge, Company 2, at Shokan, and Company 3, at West Shokan, responded. Chief Fox said there were about 40 volunteers at the scene.

THE COMPANY fartherest away from the scene of a fire stands by, he explained.

Howard Trowbridge, assistant chief of the Olive Fire Department, took charge of Company 1 in the absence of the assistant chief of that company. Assistant chiefs heading up the other companies were Lester Lawrence, Company 2, and C. Irving Hesley, Company 3.

CHIEF FOX said one of the fire trucks almost crashed into traffic blocking the road near the scene. He urged the public to obey traffic laws regarding fire sirens and pull over to the side of the road when sirens were heard.

This was the first serious fire handled by the Olive Fire Department since a house fire during the winter, Chief Fox said. "I guess we've been pretty lucky," he remarked.

Rival Politicos

remained in comparative seclusion at his home Sunday and Monday, while the local newspapers gave much attention to Lucero and almost none to the President.

THERE WAS no announcement of any change in the governmet, despite widespread speculation that it would be reorganized. Nor was there any confirmation of rumors abroad that Peron's administration would be replaced by a governing Junta.

Authoritative sources specifically denied one rumor that Peron's cabinet had resigned.

(News dispatches from Argentina have been subject to censorship since the Army put down the rebellion.)

The Army announcement said that with the entire country completely normal, several groups of troops returned to their quarters from guard duty last night. The rest were ordered to follow today.

THE PRESIDENTIAL office reported that Peron saw Lucero and several civilian cabinet ministers yesterday in separate meetings. He also met with some of his closest political associates and leaders of both the men and women's Peronista parties.

The continuing prominence of Lucero in the post-revolution period was emphasized again when the press secretariat revised a previous announcement of the president's callers to put the armed forces chief at the top of the list.

IN HIS communique, Lucero advised the public to beware of rumor mongering. He in effect denied there were any disagreements inside the armed forces or between the armed forces and the government by saying such reports were "not worth comment."

Lucero also scoffed at rumors he said have been coming from "our friends of Montevideo." Argentine exiles in the Uruguayan capital have said that negotiations were underway in Buenos Aires to set up a three-man junta, including Peron, to govern the country.

Whether any new political adjustments result or not, the withdrawal of the troops from Buenos Aires may help to relieve the tension that has gripped the capital since the revolt.

Senator Is . . .

has a right to advise the President.

McCARTHY told newsmen in advance of debate the committee decision was "disappointing" and a "great blow to the peoples in the satellite states" of eastern Europe, North Korea and elsewhere.

His resolution would express as the sentiment of the Senate that the United States should get prior approval of Russia to discuss the question of liberation in the satellite nations. Barring such approval, the resolution would in effect put the Senate on record as opposed to any big four conference.

McCarthy said, however, that "maybe we could get a resolution that didn't appear to tie President Eisenhower's hand but would express the sense of the Senate."

HE PREDICTED "some activity" in today's debate which might lead to a substitute resolution. Sen. Capehart (R.-Ind.), however, said he didn't think any substitute could swing a majority of the Senate behind what he called "this touchy question."

Both Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles have repeatedly indicated they will attempt to bring the question of "liberation" of the satellite areas into the Big Four conference.

FOREIGN Relations Committee senators said at the hearing on McCarthy's resolution yesterday they also hope the conference may ease the plight of millions behind the Iron Curtain.

Johnson, who testified, quoted Chairman George (D.-Ga.) of the committee as saying the McCarthy resolution would "blow up" the conference unless decisively defeated by the Senate. George undergoing hospital treatment for a respiratory ailment, was not on hand.

UNDERSECRETARY of State Herbert Hoover Jr., told the committee the Big Four already have agreed that each of them will be "free to take up any subject" which it believes is a "contributory cause of world tensions."

Opposing the resolution, Hoover said it is "necessary to rely on the judgment and ability" of the President and Dulles.

Johnson told reporters he and George agreed it was essential to bring McCarthy's resolution to the Senate itself for a vote, rather than allow the Foreign Relations Committee to sidetrack it.

Committee Democrats defeated a motion by Knowland to "table" the resolution—pigeonhole it in committee. The vote was 8-7, on straight party lines.

Johnson said that decision turned on whether "action should be confined to a limited group of 15 men or the whole Senate."

Republicans then went along with the Democrats to send the proposal to the Senate with a recommendation it be defeated.

Because no light penetrates the deeps of the sea, there can be no plant life there.

Geiger Counters Shown to Lions

Geiger counters were demonstrated at the Lions Club meeting Tuesday noon at the Governor Clinton Hotel by Dr. Herbert I. Derman, director of the Kingston City Laboratory.

Appearing for Dr. Milton Grover, director of the Tumor Clinic, who was unable to attend, Dr. Derman showed equipment used in cancer treatment, as well as explaining use in Civil Defense radio-active detection work and by prospectors for uranium. Samples of radio-active ore, isotopes used in cancer treatment, and other materials were brought for the demonstration.

Higher Wage

now goes back to the House for action on Senate amendments.

During hearings on the bill, John B. Hanson, who buys many government automobiles as an official of the General Services Administration (GSA), said the cost of "Fords, Plymouths and Chevrolets" for the government in the past nine months had averaged $1,278. He added recent auto industry wage agreements may push government costs above $1,350 before the year ends.

Hanson said the House limit of $1,350 would prevent purchase of any station wagons because these average $550 more than standard models. Federal civil agencies bought 108 station wagons last year and 90 so far this year, Hanson said.

Will Fly Appeal

New Orleans, June 22 (AP)—Attorneys for condemned murderer Mack Lewis planned to fly an appeal to the U. S. Supreme Court today. Lewis faces execution in Mississippi tomorrow for the slaying of Kenneth Mason, a New Orleans real estate salesman, on the Mississippi gulf coast after Mason picked up Lewis as a hitchhiker. Lewis' attorneys, Arlington Jones of Hattiesburg, Miss., and William Stewart of Poplarville, Miss., contend the Buffalo, N. Y., soldier cannot be executed.

Rift in Party

Democrat Giuseppe Saragat, vice premier in Scelba's cabinet, charged angrily that they had caused the crisis by making a deal wtih the Monarchist-Fascist Right.

A Quirinale communique announced that, as is customary, the president reserves decision on the resignation pending conferences with senior statesmen and party leaders on the formation of a new government.

These talks begin tomorrow.

PROTOCOL FIXES the order of the consultations on a new government, but hard fact may make it hard to follow.

Gronchi first should confer with Enrico De Nicola and then with Luigi Einaudi, Italy's two former presidents. De Nicola is out of Rome. Einaudi is in Britain, where he received an honorary degree from Oxford University.

Afterward, Gronchi would confer with the former premiers, Giuseppe Pella, Amintore Fanfani and Ferruccio Parri. After them, Gronchi would see the leaders of all the parties, Communists and Fascists included.

If Gronchi accepts the resignation, conferences party leaders will begin at once to pick a new prime minister to succeed the tough little anti-Communist Sicilian. Scelba's Coalition has been in office 15 months.

IF GRONCHI refuses to accept the resignations, Scelba will face a test of confidence in Parliament immediately, with his own party split in a revolt against him.

His vice premier, Social Democrat Giuseppe Saragat, said splitoff rightist groups of Christian Democrats had made a deal with the Monarchist-Fascist Right.

"The difficulty within the Christian Democrat party," said Saragat, "is based more on personal than political reasons, which is what makes it hard to understand what is now happening.

"SMALL MINORITY groups within the Christian Democrats, in an attempt to checkmate their own party, are making use of the totalitarian forces of both the right and left.

"The government crisis is a result of coalition between these minor groups and the Monarchists and Fascists. Such a system shows a lack of responsibility, and weakens the democratic forces in favor of the totalitarian forces . . .

"We Social Democrats will oppose with all our might any attempts to solve the crisis by creating a one-party cabinet. We Social Democrats will meet with all democratic forces including the Christian Democrats and the free unions in an attempt to solve the crisis."

A RIGHT WING section of the Christian Democrats has favored dumping the four-party coalition and trying a one-party cabinet. Such a cabinet would seek support either from right or left, depending on the issues involved.

The late Premier Alcide de Gasperi's last Christian Democrat cabinet collapsed when he tried the same system.

Vols Ask Expenses For Thruway Fire

An old question; what are volunteer firemen to do about their work along the New York State Thruway, turned up in another way this week.

Dan Leghorn Engine Company, Orange Lake, stopped in the Rosendale area to quench a lumber truck fire while en route to the parade here Saturday, and now they ask $10 of the thruway authority for inconveniences and materials used on the fire.

A recent Orange Lake report noted that the volunteers had spent four hours polishing their apparatus. They claim also they were dressed in spick-and-span uniforms and had to go to the parade in "a grimy state."

And with all this, said Town Councilman William Dillon, they had to pay 65 cents to get off the expressway, before joining the parade of the Hudson Valley Volunteer Firemen's Association here.

The body was taken to the H. B. Humiston Funeral Home, Kerhonkson. Funeral arrangements were incomplete this morning. It was not believed that she had any immediate survivors.

Summer Begins With Hard Storms

Albany, June 22 (AP)—Summer made her official entrance into New York state today, on the heels of a rash of destructive rain, hail, wind and electrical storms.

Hail stones up to an inch in diameter battered the Glens Falls area yesterday. Torrential rains poured water a foot deep into the village streets.

No personal injuries were reported, but several roofs were damaged and telephone service was interrupted.

A BRIEF but vigorous storm hit the Albany area in mid-afternoon. At Averell Park, in Rensselaer county, lightning touched off a fire that destroyed 500 two-month-old chickens. Their owner, Soren Peterson, estimated his loss at "several thousand dollars."

Lightning hit two houses in Albany with only slight damage as heavy rain and hail peppered the city.

Rain and wind struck Elmira, causing damage to one store.

Hail also was reported in that city as well as in Glens Falls, Corning, Binghamton, Utica and at Sampson Air Force Base, Geneva.

In Corning, Mrs. Richard Tobias, 28, and her daughter Joanne, 4, suffered head cuts from hail stones about an inch in diameter. They were treated by their family physician.

Cattle in the area were reported hit by hail, and numerous windows in homes and other buildings were smashed.

State PW Dept. To Discuss All Workers Over 70

Albany, N. Y., June 22 (AP)—The State Public Works Department intends to dismiss all employes who are 70 years old or over.

A department spokesman says the plan is aimed at retiring manual laborers considered too old for jobs requiring physical exertion.

The dismissal timetable, disclosed yesterday, calls for dropping workers aged 80 and over by June 30, those 75 through 79 by Sept. 30 and those 70 through 74 by Dec. 31.

Gov. Harriman commented that the policy was "a departmental decision in line with the responsibility for safety," he said "the principle of retirement at 70 for employes who have retirement benefits is recognized in the state law."

THE NEW PLAN came to light while Harriman was urging a Citizens Advisory Committee to find solutions to problems of the aging in New York state.

Harriman told the 46-member Citizens Committee that many workers were forced by their employers to retire while they still had many useful years left.

The public works policy was outlined in a memorandum, dated June 16, from William S. Welch, department personnel director, to division chiefs and engineers.

Besides calling for dismissal of persons 70 and over, the memo asserted that "except in outstanding cases, selection of employes for positions requiring manual effort that may involve physical exertion should be limited to persons 60 years of age and under."

THE DEPARTMENT spokesman said yesterday that most of the workers to be dropped from the payroll had been kept on until now because they were not members of the State Employes Retirement System.

Now that they are eligible for social security benefits, he said, the department feels it is time to separate them from service.

The department was unable to estimate how many employes would be affected.

The spokesman said that Harriman's consultant on problems of the aging, Philip M. Kaiser, had been informed. He said he assumed Kaiser had approved the action.

The new policy does not apply to employes with tenure, who are required by law to retire at 70.

Jehovah's Witnesses Holding World Session

Chicago, June 22 (AP)—Thousands of Jehovah's Witnesses assembled today for the first of a series of regional meetings throughout the world.

The five-day assembly is at Comiskey Park, home of the Chicago White Sox. Meanwhile, members of the sect are engaging in a house-to-house and street preaching campaign to invite Chicagoans to attend their sessions.

Nathan H. Knorr, president of the Witnesses International Directive Agency, has arranged to address each session at the ball park.

For the next nine weeks Knorr will fly to other meetings to address an expected 300,000 members of the sect from 160 countries. After Chicago the meetings will be in Vancouver, Los Angeles, Dallas, New York, London, Paris, Rome, Nurenberg, Stockholm and The Hague. Each of the meetings will extend over five days.

Boiceville Home

Fire Department said it seemed a "logical possibility" that lightning had struck the dwelling. This could not be verified, however.

A resident of the area reported flames in the cottage about 5:30 a. m. and the Olive Fire Department sent its equipment racing to the scene. Chief Fox said his first truck arrived perhaps 10 minutes after the call but found the dwelling completely involved.

Firemen "knocked the fire down" with about 4,800 gallons of water from its trucks, Chief Fox said. The interior had been completely gutted, however. Only the side walls and back of the dwelling remained standing.

Each of three trucks at the scene threw 1,000 gallons on the fire, and a tanker its 800 gallons. One of the trucks was dispatched to the station to refill. This water was also thrown on the flames. Chief Fox said there was no other water "within reasonable distance." The cottage could not have been saved anyway, Chief Fox pointed out.

IT IS BELIEVED that lightning may have struck the cottage during a severe thunderstorm which broke over the area about 4 a. m.

Chief Fox estimated damage at approximately $7,500.

Three of the Olive Fire Department's four companys were dispatched to the fire. Company 4, located in the Krumville-Samsonville area, stood by at the station. Company 1, located at Olive Bridge, Company 2, at Shokan, and Company 3, at West Shokan, responded. Chief Fox said there were about 40 volunteers at the scene.

THE COMPANY fartherest away from the scene of a fire stands by, he explained.

Howard Trowbridge, assistant chief of the Olive Fire Department, took charge of Company 1 in the absence of the assistant chief of that company. Assistant chiefs heading up the other companies were Lester Lawrence, Company 2, and C. Irving Hesley, Company 3.

CHIEF FOX said one of the fire trucks almost crashed into traffic blocking the road near the scene. He urged the public to obey traffic laws regarding fire sirens and pull over to the side of the road when sirens were heard.

This was the first serious fire handled by the Olive Fire Department since a house fire during the winter, Chief Fox said. "I guess we've been pretty lucky," he remarked.

Rival Politicos

remained in comparative seclusion at his home Sunday and Monday, while the local newspapers gave much attention to Lucero and almost none to the President.

THERE WAS no announcement of any change in the governmet, despite widespread speculation that it would be reorganized. Nor was there any confirmation of rumors abroad that Peron's administration would be replaced by a governing Junta.

Authoritative sources specifically denied one rumor that Peron's cabinet had resigned.

(News dispatches from Argentina have been subject to censorship since the Army put down the rebellion.)

The Army announcement said that with the entire country completely normal, several groups of troops returned to their quarters from guard duty last night. The rest were ordered to follow today.

THE PRESIDENTIAL office reported that Peron saw Lucero and several civilian cabinet ministers yesterday in separate meetings. He also met with some of his closest political associates and leaders of both the men and women's Peronista parties.

The continuing prominence of Lucero in the post-revolution period was emphasized again when the press secretariat revised a previous announcement of the president's callers to put the armed forces chief at the top of the list.

IN HIS communique, Lucero advised the public to beware of rumor mongering. He in effect denied there were any disagreements inside the armed forces or between the armed forces and the government by saying such reports were "not worth comment."

Lucero also scoffed at rumors he said have been coming from "our friends of Montevideo." Argentine exiles in the Uruguayan capital have said that negotiations were underway in Buenos Aires to set up a three-man junta, including Peron, to govern the country.

Whether any new political adjustments result or not, the withdrawal of the troops from Buenos Aires may help to relieve the tension that has gripped the capital since the revolt.

Senator Is . . .

has a right to advise the President.

McCARTHY told newsmen in advance of debate the committee decision was "disappointing" and a "great blow to the peoples in the satellite states" of eastern Europe, North Korea and elsewhere.

His resolution would express as the sentiment of the Senate that the United States should get prior approval of Russia to discuss the question of liberation in the satellite nations. Barring such approval, the resolution would in effect put the Senate on record as opposed to any big four conference.

McCarthy said, however, that "maybe we could get a resolution that didn't appear to tie President Eisenhower's hand but would express the sense of the Senate."

HE PREDICTED "some activity" in today's debate which might lead to a substitute resolution. Sen. Capehart (R.-Ind.), however, said he didn't think any substitute could swing a majority of the Senate behind what he called "this touchy question."

Both Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles have repeatedly indicated they will attempt to bring the question of "liberation" of the satellite areas into the Big Four conference.

FOREIGN Relations Committee senators said at the hearing on McCarthy's resolution yesterday they also hope the conference may ease the plight of millions behind the Iron Curtain.

Johnson, who testified, quoted Chairman George (D.-Ga.) of the committee as saying the McCarthy resolution would "blow up" the conference unless decisively defeated by the Senate. George undergoing hospital treatment for a respiratory ailment, was not on hand.

UNDERSECRETARY of State Herbert Hoover Jr., told the committee the Big Four already have agreed that each of them will be "free to take up any subject" which it believes is a "contributory cause of world tensions."

Opposing the resolution, Hoover said it is "necessary to rely on the judgment and ability" of the President and Dulles.

Johnson told reporters he and George agreed it was essential to bring McCarthy's resolution to the Senate itself for a vote, rather than allow the Foreign Relations Committee to sidetrack it.

Committee Democrats defeated a motion by Knowland to "table" the resolution—pigeonhole it in committee. The vote was 8-7, on straight party lines.

Johnson said that decision turned on whether "action should be confined to a limited group of 15 men or the whole Senate."

Republicans then went along with the Democrats to send the proposal to the Senate with a recommendation it be defeated.

Because no light penetrates the deeps of the sea, there can be no plant life there.

Geiger Counters Shown to Lions

Geiger counters were demonstrated at the Lions Club meeting Tuesday noon at the Governor Clinton Hotel by Dr. Herbert I. Derman, director of the Kingston City Laboratory.

Appearing for Dr. Milton Grover, director of the Tumor Clinic, who was unable to attend, Dr. Derman showed equipment used in cancer treatment, as well as explaining use in Civil Defense radio-active detection work and by prospectors for uranium. Samples of radio-active ore, isotopes used in cancer treatment, and other materials were brought for the demonstration.

Higher Wage

now goes back to the House for action on Senate amendments.

During hearings on the bill, John B. Hanson, who buys many government automobiles as an official of the General Services Administration (GSA), said the cost of "Fords, Plymouths and Chevrolets" for the government in the past nine months had averaged $1,278. He added recent auto industry wage agreements may push government costs above $1,350 before the year ends.

Hanson said the House limit of $1,350 would prevent purchase of any station wagons because these average $550 more than standard models. Federal civil agencies bought 108 station wagons last year and 90 so far this year, Hanson said.

Jazz for Symphony

Baltimore (AP) — Symphony Conductor Massimo Freccia, living up to a promise to liven up the local classical music scene, plans to present "Concerto for Jazz Band and Symphony Orchestra" at a concert next fall. On the outer fringe of the Lyric Theatre stage will be the 86 pieces of the Baltimore Symphony. In the middle will be what the program calls a progressive jazz ensemble—the 19-piece Sauter-Finnegan Orchestra. The concerto, written by a modern German composer named Lieberman, is essentially a dialogue between the jazz groups and the symphony orchestra, Massimo said.

Do You Remember

By SOPHIE MILLER

Just received several copies of "A Century of Sundays" by Helen Elmendorf Partlan which covers the Ponckhockie Sunday School and history of Ponckhockie from June 3, 1855 to 1955. One copy was brought in by Mrs. Partlan, my former English teacher at Kingston High School whose classes I always enjoyed. Two copies were sent to me by Nelson H. Lewis on Ponchhockie Congregational Church stationery. I certainly appreciate the thoughtfulness of the readers in sending this interesting material on that part of Kingston. I will add it to my collection on Ponckhockie. Mrs. Partlan begins her historical item by quoting several lines from "A Vision of Sir Launfal" by James Russel Lowell which many readers know begin with "And what is so rare as a day in June?" I can see she did a lot of research of names, dates and events for this four page coverage. She goes back to the autumn of 1852 when Kingston, Rondout, and Ponckhockie were called North Haven, a group of neighboring villages. This is important to those looking up history of that section during that period as otherwise they may wonder the whereabouts of North Haven.

So the Sunday school history starts with a group of residents of North Haven who met in a little one-room, two year old brick school, located on the grounds and just in front of School No. 4 with their leader, Mrs. George North, whose husband was in the expanding cement industry at the time. According to Mrs. Partlan, "In 1848, the Newark Lime and Cement Co. was owned by the Tompkins family, who had bought a vast tract of land with frontage on Rondout Creek and extending back through the bluffs overlooking the Creek and river. From these hills they would take the deposits of Niagara and Helderberg rocks to be manufactured into Rosendale hydraulic cement, used so extensively in the building of aqueducts and bridges."

Mrs. Partlan further writes: "In that year, 1848, this plateau, called Ponckhockie by the Indians, meaning perhaps 'place of canoes' or more likely 'angle point' from its topographical contour, was good farmland and woods. A road led up from the river at Columbus Point (near the present Rondout Yacht Club), over the plateau and up the hill to the villages of Wiltwyck and thence Kingston, the same road, half of General Vaughn's British forces took on his march to burn the village of Kingston on October 17, 1777." In the early 19th century, John Vanderlyn, Kingston's most illustrious son, and artist of local and national fame, knew this road and was able to capture its beauty on canvas.

As it will be impossible to cover all the fine material Mrs. Partlan compiled in one column, will use part of it now and more in a future column. She further goes on to tell how shortly after the establishment of the Cement Co. all the land east of Abruyn street over to Kingston Point was bought by George North and W. B. Crane. "To cultivate this farmland of North and Crane, a Doctor Newman Abbey came to Kingston. There were on the pleateau at that time, three houses, which oddly enough, are still standing occupied. They are the large stone and brick 'Ponckhockie Mansion,' better known to 20th century residents as the 'Stebbins House' located at the Strand end of Ponckhockie street and now occupied by Reno Salvatore. The stone farm house on Delaware avenue, then occupied by the Abbeys, and known as 'Abbey Homestead' sold in 1921 by the Cement Co. to Frank P. Elmendorf, and now property of his daughter, Helen Elmendorf Partlan, and the house opposite at the corner of Delaware avenue and Crane street, home of the late John Goodsell, now owned and occupied by Thomas Hart."

AMERICAN MENU

Warm Weather Is Time For Iced Tea, Cookies

QUARTS AND QUARTS of iced tea is one of the great treats which come with warmer weather.

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food and Markets Editor

Hot days bring big thirst. Big thirst calls for iced tea — quarts of it. At least that's the way it is in our house.

There are many ways to make it. Here is one of the easiest. Brew it in a saucepan. Use 7 tea bags, or 2 teaspoons loose tea for each quart of water, or 2 tea bags or 2 teaspoons of loose tea for each standard measuring cup of water.

It's just as important with iced tea as it is with hot tea, to use a good fresh tea. You can be sure of fresh tea if you buy tea that's well protected with a sealed wrapping of aluminum foil and then keep it fresh in a tightly closed canister or caddy.

Start out with fresh tea and fresh water, cold from the faucet. Bring the water to a full rolling boil. Take the pan off the heat and put in the tea. Cover and let it stand 5 minutes. Take out the tea bags at once, or if you are using loose tea, strain the tea into a pitcher.

Keep the tea at room temperature until serving time, covered. Never, under any circumstances, put the tea into the refrigerator. If you do, it's likely to cloud. When tea turns cloudy, you can bring it back to amber clarity by adding a little boiling water. Cloudiness doesn't affect flavor or quality but most of us don't like the appearance of it. Be a spendthrift with ice.

Golden Sugar Cookies
(Makes 36 4-inch cookies)

Three cups sifted flour, 1 teaspoon cream of tartar baking powder, ¼ teaspoon salt, 1¼ cups sugar, 1 cup (2 sticks) margarine, 3 eggs, unbeaten; 1 teaspoon vanilla.

Sift flour, baking powder, salt and sugar together into a mixing bowl. Add margarine and mix it in with pastry blender. Add eggs and vanilla and mix with a spoon. Chill dough in refrigerator, at least an hour. On a well-floured board or cookie sheet, roll out a small amount of dough at a time to ⅛-inch thickness. Cut cookies with floured large round cutter. If dough was rolled on a board, remove rounds to a cookie sheet. If dough was rolled out on cookie sheet, remove excess dough from around cookies. Sprinkle cookies with sugar. Bake at 375 degrees F. (moderate) about 12 to 15 minutes or until golden brown around the edges. Transfer cookies to wire rack to cool.

TOMORROW'S DINNER: Tomato juice, beef and veal loaf, mushroom gravy, baked potatoes, garden peas and white onions, enriched bread, butter or margarine, fresh fruit, sugar cookies, iced coffee or tea, milk.

Bridge Crime Helps Rivals

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

A bridge crime was committed when today's hand was played. See if you can spot the crime and the criminal.

West opened the queen of hearts and shifted to a low club at the second trick. Declarer put up the ace of clubs, drew three rounds of trumps and then ran the rest of his trumps for good measure, saving the five diamonds in the dummy. South finally led a diamond and took the rest of the tricks in dummy, making the contract with two overtricks.

Anybody who can't point to the criminal should get ready to turn in his bridge detective's badge. Do your detective work before you read on.

East was the criminal, for the hand should be defeated. East should overtake the queen of hearts with the king, just in case West has led a singleton. This happens to be the case. East continues with the ace of hearts, takes a third trick with the jack of hearts, and then leads a fourth heart.

When the fourth heart is led through him, South cannot prevent the loss of a trump trick. If South ruffs low, West will overruff immediately. If South ruffs with an honor, West will discard and will later make a natural trump trick with the nine.

The point is a very simple one to be sure, but it was actually missed by a very experienced player when the hand was played. One way to avoid missing such plays at the table is to become thoroughly familiar with the idea on paper and thus be ready for it when it does come along.

Jazz for Symphony

Baltimore (AP) — Symphony Conductor Massimo Freccia, living up to a promise to liven up the local classical music scene, plans to present "Concerto for Jazz Band and Symphony Orchestra" at a concert next fall. On the outer fringe of the Lyric Theatre stage will be the 86 pieces of the Baltimore Symphony. In the middle will be what the program calls a progressive jazz ensemble—the 19-piece Sauter-Finnegan Orchestra. The concerto, written by a modern German composer named Lieberman, is essentially a dialogue between the jazz groups and the symphony orchestra, Massimo said.

Do You Remember

By SOPHIE MILLER

Just received several copies of "A Century of Sundays" by Helen Elmendorf Partlan which covers the Ponckhockie Sunday School and history of Ponckhockie from June 3, 1855 to 1955. One copy was brought in by Mrs. Partlan, my former English teacher at Kingston High School whose classes I always enjoyed. Two copies were sent to me by Nelson H. Lewis on Ponchhockie Congregational Church stationery. I certainly appreciate the thoughtfulness of the readers in sending this interesting material on that part of Kingston. I will add it to my collection on Ponckhockie. Mrs. Partlan begins her historical item by quoting several lines from "A Vision of Sir Launfal" by James Russel Lowell which many readers know begin with "And what is so rare as a day in June?" I can see she did a lot of research of names, dates and events for this four page coverage. She goes back to the autumn of 1852 when Kingston, Rondout, and Ponckhockie were called North Haven, a group of neighboring villages. This is important to those looking up history of that section during that period as otherwise they may wonder the whereabouts of North Haven.

So the Sunday school history starts with a group of residents of North Haven who met in a little one-room, two year old brick school, located on the grounds and just in front of School No. 4 with their leader, Mrs. George North, whose husband was in the expanding cement industry at the time. According to Mrs. Partlan, "In 1848, the Newark Lime and Cement Co. was owned by the Tompkins family, who had bought a vast tract of land with frontage on Rondout Creek and extending back through the bluffs overlooking the Creek and river. From these hills they would take the deposits of Niagara and Helderberg rocks to be manufactured into Rosendale hydraulic cement, used so extensively in the building of aqueducts and bridges."

Mrs. Partlan further writes: "In that year, 1848, this plateau, called Ponckhockie by the Indians, meaning perhaps 'place of canoes' or more likely 'angle point' from its topographical contour, was good farmland and woods. A road led up from the river at Columbus Point (near the present Rondout Yacht Club), over the plateau and up the hill to the villages of Wiltwyck and thence Kingston, the same road, half of General Vaughn's British forces took on his march to burn the village of Kingston on October 17, 1777." In the early 19th century, John Vanderlyn, Kingston's most illustrious son, and artist of local and national fame, knew this road and was able to capture its beauty on canvas.

As it will be impossible to cover all the fine material Mrs. Partlan compiled in one column, will use part of it now and more in a future column. She further goes on to tell how shortly after the establishment of the Cement Co. all the land east of Abruyn street over to Kingston Point was bought by George North and W. B. Crane. "To cultivate this farmland of North and Crane, a Doctor Newman Abbey came to Kingston. There were on the pleateau at that time, three houses, which oddly enough, are still standing occupied. They are the large stone and brick 'Ponckhockie Mansion,' better known to 20th century residents as the 'Stebbins House' located at the Strand end of Ponckhockie street and now occupied by Reno Salvatore. The stone farm house on Delaware avenue, then occupied by the Abbeys, and known as 'Abbey Homestead' sold in 1921 by the Cement Co. to Frank P. Elmendorf, and now property of his daughter, Helen Elmendorf Partlan, and the house opposite at the corner of Delaware avenue and Crane street, home of the late John Goodsell, now owned and occupied by Thomas Hart."

Warm Weather Is Time For Iced Tea, Cookies

QUARTS AND QUARTS of iced tea is one of the great treats which come with warmer weather.

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food and Markets Editor

Hot days bring big thirst. Big thirst calls for iced tea — quarts of it. At least that's the way it is in our house.

There are many ways to make it. Here is one of the easiest. Brew it in a saucepan. Use 7 tea bags, or 2 teaspoons loose tea for each quart of water, or 2 tea bags or 2 teaspoons of loose tea for each standard measuring cup of water.

It's just as important with iced tea as it is with hot tea, to use a good fresh tea. You can be sure of fresh tea if you buy tea that's well protected with a sealed wrapping of aluminum foil and then keep it fresh in a tightly closed canister or caddy.

Start out with fresh tea and fresh water, cold from the faucet. Bring the water to a full rolling boil. Take the pan off the heat and put in the tea. Cover and let it stand 5 minutes. Take out the tea bags at once, or if you are using loose tea, strain the tea into a pitcher.

Keep the tea at room temperature until serving time, covered. Never, under any circumstances, put the tea into the refrigerator. If you do, it's likely to cloud. When tea turns cloudy, you can bring it back to amber clarity by adding a little boiling water. Cloudiness doesn't affect flavor or quality but most of us don't like the appearance of it. Be a spendthrift with ice.

Plain sugar cookies go much better with iced tea than rich or frosted cakes.

Chill dough in refrigerator, at least an hour. On a well-floured board or cookie sheet, roll out a small amount of dough at a time to ⅛-inch thickness. Cut cookies with floured large round cutter. If dough was rolled on a board, remove rounds to a cookie sheet. If dough was rolled out on cookie sheet, remove excess dough from around cookies. Sprinkle cookies with sugar. Bake at 375 degrees F. Des Moines, Iowa (AP)—Patrolman Galyn Devine stood and watched as William S. Rumbaugh, 22, drove into a parking lot at high speed. "What kind of driving do you call that?" Devine demanded. "Very reckless, I guess," Rumbaugh replied. Municipal Judge Howard W. Brooks agreed. He fined Rumbaugh $25.

New York, June 22 (AP)—New York city police say four men and a girl sought in Italy are not wanted here in connection with the $305,243 holdup of the Woodside, Queens, branch of the Chase Manhattan Bank last April 6. BARBERING BOBBY-SOXER—It was shear ambition—and environment—that drove pretty Joan Matteo into the barbering business. The 19-year-old cutup of Rochester, Pa., learned the tonsorial trade from her father on weekends and evenings, when she wasn't working as a secretary. Trimming heads was a natural for Joan, whose father is a barber, mother is a beautician. They operate both businesses at home. So Joan is right at home helping her father. She's shown above trimming Billy Nelson of Zelienople, Pa. EXCLUSIVE NEA PHOTO.

TICKLISH JOB—"Hot" radioactive material takes some pretty tricky handling. Here, at Brookhaven Laboratory, Upton, N.Y., the first especially designed "package" for use of atomic material in industrial research is loaded with "hot" slabs of radioactive cobalt. Otto Kuhl, right, director of the lab, uses long-poled hook to lift cobalt slab (arrow) from bottom of 14-foot water pit into five-ton cylindrical "pig" of steel and lead. Dr. R. G. Bauman, head of B. F. Goodrich nuclear study team, checks with Geiger counter for deadly gamma rays. When shipped to the rubber company's research center at Brecksville, Ohio, the pig contained four one-pound slabs of cobalt. They give off as much radiation as 1500 grams of radium would—a fatal dose to humans exposed to it for as much as 15 or 20 seconds.

Murphy Honored

and Ruby, was presided over by President Ulrich.

On the roll call 34 companies responded to roll call. A letter was read from Arthur Rice, West Hurley, secretary of the Fire Police Association of Ulster County, giving a list of officers of the newly formed fire police association and stating that Sergeant Van Demark of the State Police would be the speaker at the next meeting of the Fire Police association in New Paltz in August. He will speak of police work, delinquency and other interesting matters.

The meeting endorsed William S. Christie of Suffolk county as director of the Firemen's Association of the State of New York. He will be a candidate at the convention to be held in Lake George in September.

PRESIDENT ULRICH gave a report on the status of the two-way radio and questions were asked by representatives of various companies. Reports of the president and officers were submitted and President Ulrich submitted proposed plans for future conventions. This matter was discussed at length and it was reported the board of directors had a proposal to change the by-laws in order to permit annual dues to be raised from $5 to $25 per year. By so doing the usual $5 would be retained for operating expenses and the $20 would be placed in a special fund to help pay convention expenses. When conventions are held in smaller communities now it is difficult to arrange sufficient financial backing and under the proposed plan the special fund would relieve this situation and permit the annual county convention to be held in communities which under the present setup are unable to entertain. The matter was laid over until the August meeting.

The annual meeting of the Association will be held in Wallkill on July 19. First Vice President Eldred Smith of Plattekill spoke on the convention program for next year.

CHIEF SNYDER of Hurley spoke on the status of the two-way radio for volunteer firemen in the county and gave a report on the recent proposal submitted by the New York Telephone Company. He gave figures as to the cost to the county and to the individual fire companies and the city of Kingston for maintenance and also initial installation costs. This cost when divided up between the county and the various companies, he said would be small.

The secretary of the County Association was instructed to write to the Kingston committee thanking it for the invitation to the County Association to participate in the parade held last week in connection with the Hudson Valley Volunteer Firemen's Association annual convention.

CHIEF ALBERG of New Paltz asked that steps be taken to form an Ulster County Fire Chiefs Association. This matter will be discussed at a later meeting.

The Association went on record as favoring notification to all county fire companies to the effect that the state law regarding sounding of fire sirens except in emergencies should be enforced at all times. It was pointed out that during the recent Hudson Valley convention a fire had taken place on the thruway and a company responding to the alarm had sounded its siren while responding to the call. Other companies on the Thruway hearing the siren being sounded, joined in but made no effort to respond to the alarm believing the sounding of the first siren was a matter of fun.

Attention was called to the county convention at Wallkill on July 19. Dinner will be held at the church, followed by the business session and later entertainment.

THE MARQUEE

T.V. — STAGE — RADIO — RECORDS — PEOPLE

By DICK KLEINER

BROADWAY has television to thank for one of its two newest stars. With "Pajama Game" rolling merrily along, the time has come to replace two of its top names. Carol Haney has already left and been replaced by Helen Gallagher, who is being made a star.

The other will be Pat Marshall, signed to take over for Janis Paige shortly. Pat got her first break on the Steve Allen program. This is a compound fracture.

Summer pinch-panelists: Dagmar will take Buff Cobb's place on "Masquerade Party," and Denise Lor will fill in for Audrey Meadows on "The Name's the Same." It'll be interesting to see what sort of panelist Dagmar makes — she knows all the answers, but how is she at asking the questions?

Every so often, a children's program comes along that happily appeals to the kid themselves and to the "authorities" who give it their well-educated blessing. First it was "Ding-Dong School," then "Winky-Dink" and the latest is CBS-TV's "Let's Take a Trip."

The format is simple. Each week, Sonny Fox takes two pleasant youngsters, Pud Flanagan and Ginger McManus, on a trip somewhere. On programs to come, for example, the three trippers will visit a drug factory, a road building gang, a jet plane hangar, a telephone company and, possibly, the Boy Scout Jamboree in Canada. They visit, look, ask questions, try things out. It's fun for the viewers—and the participants, too.

Sonny Fox, a tall, good-looking former Voice of America correspondent in Korea, admits that he has the time of his life each week. He likes Pud and Ginger, finds their company and inquisitiveness stimulating and gets as much kick as they do out of the places they visit.

"I've always had a liking for children," Sonny says. "And they like me. It's a certain attitude. I think—not talking down to them, not thinking of them as too precocious. But, boy, you've got to be in shape to keep up with them! They stand there with all that excess energy of theirs any they like to hit me in the stomach."

There are no rehearsals, as such. They go to the site of the program the day of the show, and look around. That's a compromise; some thought the kids shouldn't see the place until camera time to preserve their spontaneous reactions and others held out for fuller rehearsals.

Des Moines, Iowa (AP)—Patrolman Galyn Devine stood and watched as William S. Rumbaugh, 22, drove into a parking lot at high speed. "What kind of driving do you call that?" Devine demanded. "Very reckless, I guess," Rumbaugh replied. Municipal Judge Howard W. Brooks agreed. He fined Rumbaugh $25.

Cleared of Suspicion

New York, June 22 (AP)—New York city police say four men and a girl sought in Italy are not wanted here in connection with the $305,243 holdup of the Woodside, Queens, branch of the Chase Manhattan Bank last April 6. Asst. Dist. Atty. Thomas P. Cullen of Queens said yesterday he had become interested in at least some members of the group because of "certain information and rumors." They have been investigated, he added, and "we have come to the conclusion that they are practically cleared of suspicion."

Large military radar installations cost $300,000 each.

BARBERING BOBBY-SOXER—It was shear ambition—and environment—that drove pretty Joan Matteo into the barbering business. The 19-year-old cutup of Rochester, Pa., learned the tonsorial trade from her father on weekends and evenings, when she wasn't working as a secretary. Trimming heads was a natural for Joan, whose father is a barber, mother is a beautician. They operate both businesses at home. So Joan is right at home helping her father. She's shown above trimming Billy Nelson of Zelienople, Pa. EXCLUSIVE NEA PHOTO.

TICKLISH JOB—"Hot" radioactive material takes some pretty tricky handling. Here, at Brookhaven Laboratory, Upton, N.Y., the first especially designed "package" for use of atomic material in industrial research is loaded with "hot" slabs of radioactive cobalt. Otto Kuhl, right, director of the lab, uses long-poled hook to lift cobalt slab (arrow) from bottom of 14-foot water pit into five-ton cylindrical "pig" of steel and lead. Dr. R. G. Bauman, head of B. F. Goodrich nuclear study team, checks with Geiger counter for deadly gamma rays. When shipped to the rubber company's research center at Brecksville, Ohio, the pig contained four one-pound slabs of cobalt. They give off as much radiation as 1500 grams of radium would—a fatal dose to humans exposed to it for as much as 15 or 20 seconds.

Murphy Honored

and Ruby, was presided over by President Ulrich.

On the roll call 34 companies responded to roll call. A letter was read from Arthur Rice, West Hurley, secretary of the Fire Police Association of Ulster County, giving a list of officers of the newly formed fire police association and stating that Sergeant Van Demark of the State Police would be the speaker at the next meeting of the Fire Police association in New Paltz in August. He will speak of police work, delinquency and other interesting matters.

The meeting endorsed William S. Christie of Suffolk county as director of the Firemen's Association of the State of New York. He will be a candidate at the convention to be held in Lake George in September.

PRESIDENT ULRICH gave a report on the status of the two-way radio and questions were asked by representatives of various companies. Reports of the president and officers were submitted and President Ulrich submitted proposed plans for future conventions. This matter was discussed at length and it was reported the board of directors had a proposal to change the by-laws in order to permit annual dues to be raised from $5 to $25 per year. By so doing the usual $5 would be retained for operating expenses and the $20 would be placed in a special fund to help pay convention expenses. When conventions are held in smaller communities now it is difficult to arrange sufficient financial backing and under the proposed plan the special fund would relieve this situation and permit the annual county convention to be held in communities which under the present setup are unable to entertain. The matter was laid over until the August meeting.

The annual meeting of the Association will be held in Wallkill on July 19. First Vice President Eldred Smith of Plattekill spoke on the convention program for next year.

CHIEF SNYDER of Hurley spoke on the status of the two-way radio for volunteer firemen in the county and gave a report on the recent proposal submitted by the New York Telephone Company. He gave figures as to the cost to the county and to the individual fire companies and the city of Kingston for maintenance and also initial installation costs. This cost when divided up between the county and the various companies, he said would be small.

The secretary of the County Association was instructed to write to the Kingston committee thanking it for the invitation to the County Association to participate in the parade held last week in connection with the Hudson Valley Volunteer Firemen's Association annual convention.

CHIEF ALBERG of New Paltz asked that steps be taken to form an Ulster County Fire Chiefs Association. This matter will be discussed at a later meeting.

The Association went on record as favoring notification to all county fire companies to the effect that the state law regarding sounding of fire sirens except in emergencies should be enforced at all times. It was pointed out that during the recent Hudson Valley convention a fire had taken place on the thruway and a company responding to the alarm had sounded its siren while responding to the call. Other companies on the Thruway hearing the siren being sounded, joined in but made no effort to respond to the alarm believing the sounding of the first siren was a matter of fun.

Attention was called to the county convention at Wallkill on July 19. Dinner will be held at the church, followed by the business session and later entertainment.

Gold Dredge Moved

Helena, Mont. (AP)—The first of the modern floating gold dredges to be erected in the Helena mining area has been transferred to placer workings in the Boise, Idaho, Basin. It required fifteen 20-ton trucks to haul the dismantled 300-ton giant. There still is one gold dredge in the Helena area. It is on a creek 15 miles south of Montana's capital city.

THE MARQUEE

T.V. — STAGE — RADIO — RECORDS — PEOPLE

By DICK KLEINER

BROADWAY has television to thank for one of its two newest stars. With "Pajama Game" rolling merrily along, the time has come to replace two of its top names. Carol Haney has already left and been replaced by Helen Gallagher, who is being made a star.

The other will be Pat Marshall, signed to take over for Janis Paige shortly. Pat got her first break on the Steve Allen program. This is a compound fracture.

Summer pinch-panelists: Dagmar will take Buff Cobb's place on "Masquerade Party," and Denise Lor will fill in for Audrey Meadows on "The Name's the Same." It'll be interesting to see what sort of panelist Dagmar makes — she knows all the answers, but how is she at asking the questions?

Every so often, a children's program comes along that happily appeals to the kid themselves and to the "authorities" who give it their well-educated blessing. First it was "Ding-Dong School," then "Winky-Dink" and the latest is CBS-TV's "Let's Take a Trip."

The format is simple. Each week, Sonny Fox takes two pleasant youngsters, Pud Flanagan and Ginger McManus, on a trip somewhere. On programs to come, for example, the three trippers will visit a drug factory, a road building gang, a jet plane hangar, a telephone company and, possibly, the Boy Scout Jamboree in Canada. They visit, look, ask questions, try things out. It's fun for the viewers—and the participants, too.

Sonny Fox, a tall, good-looking former Voice of America correspondent in Korea, admits that he has the time of his life each week. He likes Pud and Ginger, finds their company and inquisitiveness stimulating and gets as much kick as they do out of the places they visit.

"I've always had a liking for children," Sonny says. "And they like me. It's a certain attitude. I think—not talking down to them, not thinking of them as too precocious. But, boy, you've got to be in shape to keep up with them! They stand there with all that excess energy of theirs any they like to hit me in the stomach."

There are no rehearsals, as such. They go to the site of the program the day of the show, and look around. That's a compromise; some thought the kids shouldn't see the place until camera time to preserve their spontaneous reactions and others held out for fuller rehearsals.

Kaplan Bag Upsets Pommiers In City Softball League, 15-13

Kaplan Excels In Relief Role

The City Softball League experienced its second major upset in two days yesterday when Kaplan Bag knocked off the highly favored Les Pommiers, 15 to 13.

A nine-run blast in the fourth innings overcame a 9-1 advantage held by the Pommiers and the Bagmen chased five more runners across the plate in the fifth.

STAN KAPLAN relieved T. Beland in the sixth and held off the resurgent onion soup representatives with a single marker in the bottom of the seventh.

In other games, Tandy Taylor pitched the Destroyers to an 8-2 victory over Hilltop, and Wimpy's staged a strong finish to overpower Turcams, 15 to 11.

LES POMMIERS outhit Kaplan's, 15-13, with Champ Holstein and Joe Albany blasting four hits each. Danny Basch belted a double and two singles off Ed Dasher.

Albany had a double and triple among his collection. S. Levy tripled twice for Kaplans. T. Beland, Kaplan's starting pitcher, and Joe Ruzzo of Les Pommiers clouted homers.

Destroyers and Hilltop each collected 10 hits but Taylor was more effective than Brown in the clutch. The Destroyers sewed up the game with five runs in the third.

McCARDLE, Rockwell and Brown each hit safely twice for Hilltop. Armstrong, D. Lindsay and Marable dittoed for Destroyers.

Trailing 10-2 when they came to bat in the fifth, Wimpys climbed over Turnier for five runs and added two in the sixth to trail 10-9. They trailed 11-9 when they erupted for six in the seventh.

Hank Diamond and Wolfe shared the pitching chores for Wimpy's, who were outhit, 13 to 9.

J. Smith stroked a single and homer for Wimpy's and Tony Hines belted a double and two singles. Pettigrew's three singles led Trucams. Sickler, Talleur, Riti and Brown got a pair each.

Mrs. Zaharias will undergo surgery to correct a ruptured disc "within a very few days, Dr. S. R. Snodgrass said.

It Doesn't Figure Department: The Poughkeepsie entry in the New York-New Jersey Semi-Pro League drew more than 500 paid admissions, an incredible figure in these dark ages of semi-pro baseball. And Poughkeepsie was the deadest baseball town in the Hudson valley for a decade.

Newburgh Jewels, with high powered promotion, major league backing, tremendous newspaper publicity and the driving energy of William D. Ryan attracted less than 200 against Poughkeepsie, a natural geographical and sentimental opponent last Sunday at Newburgh. It doesn't figure does it?

• Flotsam and Jetsam:

The big brass of boxing is privately rooting for a solid Archie Moore victory over Bobo Olson tonight at the Polo Grounds. . . . A KO by Moore would give Marciano a logical opponent in September. If Olson should beat Moore by decision, the boxing fans just wouldn't buy Marciano-Olson anytime, any place. The strong, silent man behind the fabulous success of the Herdegen Memorial golf tournament is Ralph E. Herdegen, a slick man with a check book and figures. . . . Sixty-four boys, including Marty Kantrowitz and Dirk Oudemool of Kingston, are expected to take part in the second annual New York State Junior Chamber of Commerce tennis tournament at the Vassar College courts on June 27-28-29. . . . Billy "The Kid" Short, crack Newburgh Academy southpaw, fanned 17 batters but lost a 2-1 decision at Meriden, Conn., last wekend. Some critics claim Short and Tony Komisar, the Beacon High phenom, aren't fast enough to climb to the majors.

• Rollins Honors Dick Bezemer:

Dick Bezemer of Kingston was singled out for special mention at Rollins College's recent Honors Day. The former Kingston High School All-DUSO basketball star was the only freshman to receive a varsity letter in basketball at the Winter Park, Fla., school. He was the leading scorer for the Tars with a 16.7 point a game average and won All-State honors, the only Rollins player and only freshman to make the honorary team. Bezemer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bezemer of 405 Hasbrouck avenue, Kingston, is a member of the X-Club local fraternity at Rollins.

• Of Men and Mice:

How about Harold Van Aken going from 45 to 35 in the Herdegen tournament? . . . Uncle Sams of Paterson, N. J., tied with Newburgh Dodger Jewels for the NY-NJ Semi-Pro League lead with a 2-1 record is managed by Clary Anderson and have a working agreement with the Philadelphia Phillies. The star players with the Uncle Sams who visit Kingston on July 23 are Charley Brown, who pitched for Columbia University and Jim Gillis, former Notre Dame football and baseball player. The Paterson team beat the Brooklyn Windsors 5-3 before 2,000 in their home opener with Gov. Robert Meyner tossing out the first ball. Gayle Mitchell and Susan Stewart are a couple of ordinary girls in many ways. They have permanents, use lipstick and nail polish and like pretty clothes. In fact, they are just like most other girls in every way except one; they are also rodeo performers.

Gayle and Susan are two of the stars who will appear with the famed Cherokee Ranch Rodeo at the Arlington Speedway, Poughkeepsie, three nights, June 27th, 28th, 29th, 8:30 p. m.

The girls, who could pass for teenagers in town except for their western garb, are expert riders. Gayle shows the strength and nerve of a man when she mounts and rides the toughest of the bucking horses out of the chutes. Susan is the expert trick and fancy rider.

The girls, practically born in the saddle, were trained to ride from infancy on their father's ranches in Montana. Susan, not content to learn to ride with the best, had to learn to perform thrillingly on the back of a horse going a full gallop. Balanced precariously on the back of a running horse, and, at times, supported by her hands alone, Susan gives an almost unbelievable exhibition of perfect balance and symmetry in motion.

Gayle had competed with men in many of the more daring events and is known as one of the best in rodeo circles throughout the West. She is a popular figure at many of the established rodeos and her fans in the range country are legion. This is the first appearance in the East for both girls. Adults $1.50, Children 50c.

Kaplan Bag Upsets Pommiers In City Softball League, 15-13

Kaplan Excels In Relief Role

The City Softball League experienced its second major upset in two days yesterday when Kaplan Bag knocked off the highly favored Les Pommiers, 15 to 13.

A nine-run blast in the fourth innings overcame a 9-1 advantage held by the Pommiers and the Bagmen chased five more runners across the plate in the fifth.

STAN KAPLAN relieved T. Beland in the sixth and held off the resurgent onion soup representatives with a single marker in the bottom of the seventh.

In other games, Tandy Taylor pitched the Destroyers to an 8-2 victory over Hilltop, and Wimpy's staged a strong finish to overpower Turcams, 15 to 11.

LES POMMIERS outhit Kaplan's, 15-13, with Champ Holstein and Joe Albany blasting four hits each. Danny Basch belted a double and two singles off Ed Dasher.

Albany had a double and triple among his collection. S. Levy tripled twice for Kaplans. T. Beland, Kaplan's starting pitcher, and Joe Ruzzo of Les Pommiers clouted homers.

Destroyers and Hilltop each collected 10 hits but Taylor was more effective than Brown in the clutch. The Destroyers sewed up the game with five runs in the third.

McCARDLE, Rockwell and Brown each hit safely twice for Hilltop. Armstrong, D. Lindsay and Marable dittoed for Destroyers.

Trailing 10-2 when they came to bat in the fifth, Wimpys climbed over Turnier for five runs and added two in the sixth to trail 10-9. They trailed 11-9 when they erupted for six in the seventh.

Hank Diamond and Wolfe shared the pitching chores for Wimpy's, who were outhit, 13 to 9.

J. Smith stroked a single and homer for Wimpy's and Tony Hines belted a double and two singles. Pettigrew's three singles led Trucams. Sickler, Talleur, Riti and Brown got a pair each.

It Doesn't Figure Department: The Poughkeepsie entry in the New York-New Jersey Semi-Pro League drew more than 500 paid admissions, an incredible figure in these dark ages of semi-pro baseball. And Poughkeepsie was the deadest baseball town in the Hudson valley for a decade.

Newburgh Jewels, with high powered promotion, major league backing, tremendous newspaper publicity and the driving energy of William D. Ryan attracted less than 200 against Poughkeepsie, a natural geographical and sentimental opponent last Sunday at Newburgh. It doesn't figure does it?

• Flotsam and Jetsam:

The big brass of boxing is privately rooting for a solid Archie Moore victory over Bobo Olson tonight at the Polo Grounds. . . . A KO by Moore would give Marciano a logical opponent in September. If Olson should beat Moore by decision, the boxing fans just wouldn't buy Marciano-Olson anytime, any place. The strong, silent man behind the fabulous success of the Herdegen Memorial golf tournament is Ralph E. Herdegen, a slick man with a check book and figures. . . . Sixty-four boys, including Marty Kantrowitz and Dirk Oudemool of Kingston, are expected to take part in the second annual New York State Junior Chamber of Commerce tennis tournament at the Vassar College courts on June 27-28-29. . . . Billy "The Kid" Short, crack Newburgh Academy southpaw, fanned 17 batters but lost a 2-1 decision at Meriden, Conn., last wekend. Some critics claim Short and Tony Komisar, the Beacon High phenom, aren't fast enough to climb to the majors.

• Rollins Honors Dick Bezemer:

Dick Bezemer of Kingston was singled out for special mention at Rollins College's recent Honors Day. The former Kingston High School All-DUSO basketball star was the only freshman to receive a varsity letter in basketball at the Winter Park, Fla., school. He was the leading scorer for the Tars with a 16.7 point a game average and won All-State honors, the only Rollins player and only freshman to make the honorary team. Bezemer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bezemer of 405 Hasbrouck avenue, Kingston, is a member of the X-Club local fraternity at Rollins.

• Of Men and Mice:

How about Harold Van Aken going from 45 to 35 in the Herdegen tournament? . . . Uncle Sams of Paterson, N. J., tied with Newburgh Dodger Jewels for the NY-NJ Semi-Pro League lead with a 2-1 record is managed by Clary Anderson and have a working agreement with the Philadelphia Phillies. The star players with the Uncle Sams who visit Kingston on July 23 are Charley Brown, who pitched for Columbia University and Jim Gillis, former Notre Dame football and baseball player. The Paterson team beat the Brooklyn Windsors 5-3 before 2,000 in their home opener with Gov. Robert Meyner tossing out the first ball. Moore Rated 2-1 Choice In Bout With Olson

New York, June 22 (AP)—Aging Archie Moore gambles his light heavyweight crown and his hopes for a heavyweight championship shot when he faces ambitious Carl (Bobo) Olson, the middleweight ruler, in a 15-round title fight tonight at the Polo Grounds.

A loss to the 160-pound titleholder not only would cost the 38-year-old Moore his crown but would ruin forever his chances of getting a whack at heavyweight boss Rocky Marciano. Even a close victory could prove fatal to Moore's prospects.

THE 175-POUND king will be 39 in December and if Al Weill, Marciano's manager, has his way, Archie will be eligible for social security before Rocky is permitted to get in the den with the ancient lion.

So why is Moore risking all against the lighter Olson?

The answer is money and supreme confidence. Moore figures to gross around $90,000 from a probably gross gate of around $225,000 plus the $100,000 radio-television money. And the old gypsy of the ring firmly believes that he can whip any fighter around today.

"I'll knock him out," said Moore. "No, I won't name the round but I'll do it no matter how he fights. After him, it's got to be Marciano. They won't be able to duck me any longer."

There was just as much confidence in the Olson camp although the 28-year-old San Franciscan declined, as usual to make any outright prediction.

"I'LL BE AFTER him every second of every round," said the balding Bobo. "He hasn't had the pressure put on him all the way for a long time. Sure, I know he can hit awfully hard with that sneak right hand of his but he'll have to catch me with it first."

The betting odds make Moore, undefeated over the last 3½ years and winner of 20 straight, a 2-1 favorite.

Starting time for the outdoor battle is 10 p. m. EDT (9 p. m. EST). The bout will be broadcast and telecast by the ABC networks but the metropolitan New York area will be blacked out of the television. A crowd of about 20,000 is likely although it could be more if the weatherman's optimistic forecast holds good in the evening.

If it should rain, however, forcing a postponement, the fight will be held Thursday.

The two gladiators will motor from their New Jersey camps directly to Madison Square Garden for the noon weigh-in ceremony in the Garden ring. Moore figures to scale around 174 to Olson's 170.

If Ted Williams doesn't call it quits for good this season, the Boston Red Sox management is going to be in one heckuva pickle—how can you give a raise to a guy already making a hundred grand?

A player in that salary bracket (which means Williams, although he's getting a scaled down check because of his late start) doesn't figure to get a bonus no matter what he does. But Williams is worth $100,000 to the Red Sox and baseball, at the gate alone, just by putting on a uniform.

TAKE LAST night. The Red Sox made it 12 out of 14 by beating the fourth place Detroit Tigers 5-4—but it was Williams' home run with two on in the eighth that did it. That left Boston just two games shy of the Tigers after picking up six games on Detroit in the last 14.

Williams' homer last night was his ninth of the season—No. 375 for the Williams career—and it came on a 3-0 pitch by Ned Garver. That was it, with Ellis Kinder, another old pro like Williams, coming on in relief in the ninth to preserve Tom Hurd's victory.

Williams' home run was "only" a 390-foot job, but it overshadowed the 486-foot blast Mickey Mantle leveled as the New York Yankees beat Kansas City 6-2 to stay two games up in the American League race.

The second place Chicago White Sox beat Washington 6-1 and third place Cleveland trimmed Baltimore 3-1.

IN THE NATIONAL Brooklyn boosted its lead to 12 games over Chicago as Don Newcombe won his 12th by beating the Cubs 7-2 in 11 innings. Milwaukee moved to within 1½ games of the runnerup Cubs by trimming Pittsburgh 6-4 and Cincinnati gave the sliding New York Giants another shove 10-1. PPhildalephia dumped St. Louis 10-8.

Mantle's homer was one of the longest ever belted in Yankee Stadium, hitting the extreme center field seats—Virgin territory according to veteran press box witnesses. The ball cleared a 30-foot barrier.

Alex Kellner, losing his seventh straight to the Yanks, was the victim of Mantle's blast with none on in the first. He left in a four-run Yank fourth after a 47-minute delay because of rain. Tommy Byrne won his fifth.

NEWCOMBE was sent into overtime for his 12th triumph in 13 decisions after being tagged for a homer by Ernie Banks in the seventh that knotted it at 2-all. The Brooks broke out for five runs in the 11th, chasing Warren Hacker as Roy Campanella led off with his fourth hit, a double. Newk, who whiffed nine and walked one, drove in two runs in the rally with his second double of the game.

Little Jackie Collum dumped the world champs to their sixth straight defeat as the Redlegs finally beat Johnny Antonelli's eight-game success against them. Willie Mays was back for the Giants, but was hitless in four trips.

Schenectady Ace Hikes Scoreless Skein in Eastern

(By The Associated Press)

Schenectady's Henry Mason is collecting scoreless innings in the Eastern League.

The Blue Jay's Negro righthander fired his slants past the Williamsport batters last night and ran his string to 18 scoreless innings. Mason scattered four hits, shuting out league-leading Williamsport 3-0.

He delivered a double to the Jay's hitting attack, driving in Schenectady's final in the fourth.

IN THE ONLY other game last night, back to back homers in the 10th by Larry Stanky and Mike Napoli broke up a tense hurling duel as the Elmira Pioneers downed the Reading Indians 3-1.

Stankey also hit for the circuit in the eighth for the Pioneers.

Tom Puehl got credit for the victory. He gave up 10 hits. Gene Law was the loser.

Wilkes-Barre at Albany and Allentown at Binghamton were postponed because of rain.

Mason collected his previous nine scoreless innings June 16 at the expense of Wilkes-Barre. He gave up only four hits, and the Jays won 4-0. Only one Gray got as far ag third base last night.

Leafs Hike Lead In International

(By The Associated Press)

The Montreal Royals were all set to take over first place in the International League, but they didn't reckon with the Toronto Maple Leafs.

The Royals opened a three-game series with the first place Leafs last night only one half game off the pace. Then the Leafs struck. They pounded five Montreal pitchers for 18 hits and an easy victory 10-4 to increase their lead to 1½ games.

IN OTHER games the Columbus Jets ran their latest winning streak to three as Carl Duser and Dutch Romberger combined for a 3-1 triumph over the Richmond Virginians. The Rochester Red Wings scored two runs in the eighth to edge the Buffalo Bisons, 4-3. The Havana Sugar Kings were trailing the Syracuse Chief 2-0 after two innings when the game was postponed by rain.

CHICAGO COMEBACKS—Sam Jones, left, and Dick Donovan are big right-handers who in the higher minors last year pitched their way back to the big leagues. Jones turned in a no-hit, no-run game for the Cubs against the Pirates. Donovan compiled an early season winning streak, including three consecutive shutouts, for the White Sox.

Billy Shields Tops Albany Qualifiers in State Tourney

Albany, June 22 (AP) — Billy Shields, state amateur golf champion in 1951, and 1952, heads a list of four Albany district golfers who will compete in the 1955 state tourney July 6-10.

Shields carded a 73 yesterday on his home course, the par-72 Albany Country Club. He posted a three-under-par 33 going out but slipped to 40 on the return nine.

QUALIFYING rounds also were played yesterday on the par-70 Yahnundasis Country Club, New Hartford, where John Pelnik shot a pair of 35s and topped a list of 10 who will represent the Utica district in the state tourney. Pelnik plays out of Twin Ponds Club, New York Mills.

This year's tournament will be held at Moon Brook Country Club, Jamestown.

The other Albany district qualifiers: Pierce H. Russell, Troy Country Club, 36-38—74; W. B. Stevens, Jr., Schuyler Meadows Country Club, Albany, 37-39—76, and Larry White, Pine Brook Country Club, Gloversville, 39-38—77.

SCOREBOARD

By ED WILKS
(The Associated Press)

If Ted Williams doesn't call it quits for good this season, the Boston Red Sox management is going to be in one heckuva pickle—how can you give a raise to a guy already making a hundred grand?

A player in that salary bracket (which means Williams, although he's getting a scaled down check because of his late start) doesn't figure to get a bonus no matter what he does. But Williams is worth $100,000 to the Red Sox and baseball, at the gate alone, just by putting on a uniform.

TAKE LAST night. The Red Sox made it 12 out of 14 by beating the fourth place Detroit Tigers 5-4—but it was Williams' home run with two on in the eighth that did it. That left Boston just two games shy of the Tigers after picking up six games on Detroit in the last 14.

Williams' homer last night was his ninth of the season—No. 375 for the Williams career—and it came on a 3-0 pitch by Ned Garver. That was it, with Ellis Kinder, another old pro like Williams, coming on in relief in the ninth to preserve Tom Hurd's victory.

Williams' home run was "only" a 390-foot job, but it overshadowed the 486-foot blast Mickey Mantle leveled as the New York Yankees beat Kansas City 6-2 to stay two games up in the American League race.

The second place Chicago White Sox beat Washington 6-1 and third place Cleveland trimmed Baltimore 3-1.

IN THE NATIONAL Brooklyn boosted its lead to 12 games over Chicago as Don Newcombe won his 12th by beating the Cubs 7-2 in 11 innings. Milwaukee moved to within 1½ games of the runnerup Cubs by trimming Pittsburgh 6-4 and Cincinnati gave the sliding New York Giants another shove 10-1. PPhildalephia dumped St. Louis 10-8.

Mantle's homer was one of the longest ever belted in Yankee Stadium, hitting the extreme center field seats—Virgin territory according to veteran press box witnesses. The ball cleared a 30-foot barrier.

Alex Kellner, losing his seventh straight to the Yanks, was the victim of Mantle's blast with none on in the first. He left in a four-run Yank fourth after a 47-minute delay because of rain. Tommy Byrne won his fifth.

NEWCOMBE was sent into overtime for his 12th triumph in 13 decisions after being tagged for a homer by Ernie Banks in the seventh that knotted it at 2-all. The Brooks broke out for five runs in the 11th, chasing Warren Hacker as Roy Campanella led off with his fourth hit, a double. Newk, who whiffed nine and walked one, drove in two runs in the rally with his second double of the game.

Little Jackie Collum dumped the world champs to their sixth straight defeat as the Redlegs finally beat Johnny Antonelli's eight-game success against them. Willie Mays was back for the Giants, but was hitless in four trips.

Yesterday's Stars

HITTING—Ted Williams, Red Sox, unloaded his ninth homer of the season with two on in the eighth to beat Detroit 5-4.

Schenectady Ace Hikes Scoreless Skein in Eastern

(By The Associated Press)

Schenectady's Henry Mason is collecting scoreless innings in the Eastern League.

The Blue Jay's Negro right-hander fired his slants past the Williamsport batters last night and ran his string to 18 scoreless innings. Mason scattered four hits, shuting out league-leading Williamsport 3-0.

He delivered a double to the Jay's hitting attack, driving in Schenectady's final in the fourth.

IN THE ONLY other game last night, back to back homers in the 10th by Larry Stanky and Mike Napoli broke up a tense hurling duel as the Elmira Pioneers downed the Reading Indians 3-1.

Stankey also hit for the circuit in the eighth for the Pioneers.

Tom Puehl got credit for the victory. He gave up 10 hits. Gene Law was the loser.

Wilkes-Barre at Albany and Allentown at Binghamton were postponed because of rain.

Mason collected his previous nine scoreless innings June 16 at the expense of Wilkes-Barre. He gave up only four hits, and the Jays won 4-0. Only one Gray got as far as third base last night.

Leafs Hike Lead In International

(By The Associated Press)

The Montreal Royals were all set to take over first place in the International League, but they didn't reckon with the Toronto Maple Leafs.

The Royals opened a three-game series with the first place Leafs last night only one half game off the pace. Then the Leafs struck. They pounded five Montreal pitchers for 18 hits and an easy victory 10-4 to increase their lead to 1½ games.

IN OTHER games the Columbus Jets ran their latest winning streak to three as Carl Duser and Dutch Romberger combined for a 3-1 triumph over the Richmond Virginians. The Rochester Red Wings scored two runs in the eighth to edge the Buffalo Bisons, 4-3. The Havana Sugar Kings were trailing the Syracuse Chief 2-0 after two innings when the game was postponed by rain.

CHICAGO COMEBACKS—Sam Jones, left, and Dick Donovan are big right-handers who in the higher minors last year pitched their way back to the big leagues. Jones turned in a no-hit, no-run game for the Cubs against the Pirates. Donovan compiled an early season winning streak, including three consecutive shutouts, for the White Sox.

COMPLETION OF SCHOOL ASSESSMENT ROLL

The Assessment Roll of the City of Kingston for the school fiscal year 1955-1956 has been finally completed and filed in the office of the City Clerk, at the City Hall, City of Kingston, N. Y., where the same will remain open to inspection for FIFTEEN DAYS.

Dated at Kingston, N. Y., June 21st, 1955.

WINFIELD SWART
City Assessor

Stevens Quits

Wilson and believe I can accomplish what you and he desire of me before the end of July.

"If this is satisfactory to you, I will be guided accordingly and will work out the precise date of my resignation with Mr. Wilson who, I am sure, will keep you informed.

"I CANNOT submit my resignation without expressing my profound admiration of your leadership during these last two and a half years and my deep appreciation of the opportunity you accorded me to serve the country and your administration during this same period. I shall always be grateful for this chance to serve our great army and for your never failing support.

"I leave with real regret. I would like to carry on as a member of your team. Only personal considerations have decreed it otherwise. I am sure you know that I will always be willing to be of service to you, if the occasion should arise."

Accepting the resignation "with deep regret" Eisenhower said in a letter to Stevens he was "indeed sorry that you find it necessary at this time to return to private life." Eisenhower started his letter "Dear Bob."

THE PRESIDENT said Stevens had made a "large personal sacrifice" in continuing as army secretary, and went on to say:

"As secretary of the army during the past two and one half years you have contributed extensively to the vital task of reshaping our military forces to conform to the conditions of our time. Secretary Wilson and I have been grateful for your devotion and strong support in carrying it through.

"As you return to private affairs, you carry with you my personal gratitude for your fine service along with every wish for your health and happiness in the years ahead."

EISENHOWER signed the letter "with warm regards."

Stevens—his full name is Robert Ten Broeck Stevens—is a grey, ruddy faced man with a quick smile. He took over as Republican boss of the army on Feb. 2, 1953, right in the middle of the controversy over reported ammunition shortages in Korea.

He promptly flew to the Far East to find out the facts for himself and then he came back and rattled around the country visiting ammunition suppliers and jacking up production.

The ammunition shortage controversy, although it waxed hot for a time, was mild in comparison with Stevens' later controversy with McCarthy.

whether SLA employes had any income or business outside their SLA jobs, what bank accounts or safe deposit boxes they had, what securities or real estate they owned and where they obtained cash for down payments on homes.

Shapiro said in his court application yesterday that the questions were "legal and pertinent" to his investigation of the SLA and its personnel. He charged the six employes with "contemptuous behavior" which he said constituted an attempt to "impair and defeat" the inquiry.

An aide of Atty. Gen. Jacob K. Javits later told a newsman that the issue of whether the investigation commissioner possesses contempt power "hasn't been tested."

The Javits aide said any legal action such as the court case instituted by Shapiro would normally be handled by the attorney general as counsel of record for state departments.

Shapiro is an appointee of Democratic Gov. Averell Harriman while Javits is an elected Republican.

Manhattan Dist. Atty. Frank S. Hogan, who last month announced a grand jury investigation into possible bribery of SLA employes, notified the SLA yesterday that two of the SLA men named by Shapiro — Reiss and Singer — had refused to answer questions before the grand jury. This raised the possibility of their dismissal from their jobs under a state law requiring public employes to testify.

COMPLETION OF SCHOOL ASSESSMENT ROLL

The Assessment Roll of the City of Kingston for the school fiscal year 1955-1956 has been finally completed and filed in the office of the City Clerk, at the City Hall, City of Kingston, N. Y., where the same will remain open to inspection for FIFTEEN DAYS.

Dated at Kingston, N. Y., June 21st, 1955.

Stevens Quits

Wilson and believe I can accomplish what you and he desire of me before the end of July.

"If this is satisfactory to you, I will be guided accordingly and will work out the precise date of my resignation with Mr. Wilson who, I am sure, will keep you informed.

"I CANNOT submit my resignation without expressing my profound admiration of your leadership during these last two and a half years and my deep appreciation of the opportunity you accorded me to serve the country and your administration during this same period. I shall always be grateful for this chance to serve our great army and for your never failing support.

"I leave with real regret. I would like to carry on as a member of your team. Only personal considerations have decreed it otherwise. I am sure you know that I will always be willing to be of service to you, if the occasion should arise."

Accepting the resignation "with deep regret" Eisenhower said in a letter to Stevens he was "indeed sorry that you find it necessary at this time to return to private life." Eisenhower started his letter "Dear Bob."

THE PRESIDENT said Stevens had made a "large personal sacrifice" in continuing as army secretary, and went on to say:

"As secretary of the army during the past two and one half years you have contributed extensively to the vital task of reshaping our military forces to conform to the conditions of our time. Secretary Wilson and I have been grateful for your devotion and strong support in carrying it through.

"As you return to private affairs, you carry with you my personal gratitude for your fine service along with every wish for your health and happiness in the years ahead."

EISENHOWER signed the letter "with warm regards."

Stevens—his full name is Robert Ten Broeck Stevens—is a grey, ruddy faced man with a quick smile. He took over as Republican boss of the army on Feb. 2, 1953, right in the middle of the controversy over reported ammunition shortages in Korea.

He promptly flew to the Far East to find out the facts for himself and then he came back and rattled around the country visiting ammunition suppliers

whether SLA employes had any income or business outside their SLA jobs, what bank accounts or safe deposit boxes they had, what securities or real estate they owned and where they obtained cash for down payments on homes.

Shapiro said in his court application yesterday that the questions were "legal and pertinent" to his investigation of the SLA and its personnel. He charged the six employes with "contemptuous behavior" which he said constituted an attempt to "impair and defeat" the inquiry.

An aide of Atty. Gen. Jacob K. Javits later told a newsman that the issue of whether the investigation commissioner possesses contempt power "hasn't been tested."

The Javits aide said any legal action such as the court case instituted by Shapiro would normally be handled by the attorney general as counsel of record for state departments.

Shapiro is an appointee of Democratic Gov. Averell Harriman while Javits is an elected Republican.

Manhattan Dist. Atty. Frank S. Hogan, who last month announced a grand jury investigation into possible bribery of SLA employes, notified the SLA yesterday that two of the SLA men named by Shapiro — Reiss and Singer — had refused to answer questions before the grand jury. This raised the possibility of their dismissal from their jobs under a state law requiring public employes to testify.

and jacking up production.

The ammunition shortage controversy, although it waxed hot for a time, was mild in comparison with Stevens' later controversy with McCarthy.

The Weather

WEDNESDAY, JUNE 22, 1955

Sun rises at 4:21 a. m.; sun sets at 7:36 p. m. EST.

Weather: Fair.

The Temperature

The lowest temperature recorded on The Freeman thermometer during the night was 64 degrees. The highest figure recorded up to noon today was 83 degrees.

Gentle to moderate southwest to west winds this afternoon and tonight and moderate westerly winds Thursday. Good visibility.

EASTERN New York: Partly cloudy and not as warm today: Highest temperature 76 to 84 degrees. Considerable cloudiness with scattered showers late tonight and Thursday morning. Low temperature tonight 55 to 60. Clearing Thursday afternoon; highest temperature 74 to 82.

CITY ENGINEER'S weather report: Temperature at 10 a. m., 80, barometric pressure 29.70, humidity 86, and wind S at 5 MPH. High temperature yesterday 90 at 1 p. m., low 65 at 11 p. m., mean 77.5 and normal 72. Humidity 95 at 11 p. m., and 66 at 6 p. m. Pressure 29.72 at 9 a. m., and 29.68 at 4 p. m. Two Challenge Uniform Juries

The constitutionality of the law setting up a uniform jury system in the state has been challenged by two Albany residents, Edward C. Farrington and Helen Garry Burns, a real estate agent and a stenographer, respectively.

Supreme Court Justice Harry E. Schirick has granted an order directing Elizabeth F. Pickney, Albany county commissioner of jurors, and Jacob H. Herzog, county treasurer, to show cause in court why the law should not be declared unconstitutional. That order is returnable before Justice Schirick here at 11 a. m. Thursday. The attorney general will defend the law and Harold Blodget, appears for the petitioners.

Damage Is . . .

cupied six-room frame cottage to the ground in Boiceville about 6 a. m. today may have been ignited by lightning, according to Chief Albert Fox of the Olive Fire Department. This could not be verified, however. (Story on Page 1).

HAIL WAS reported Tuesday afternoon in some parts of the county including Woodstock and the town of Ulster.

"Very little damage was reported by Arthur W. Buddenhagen, public contact supervisor of Central Hudson Gas and Electric Corp.

HE SAID a wire was reported down at 1:38 a. m. today in the Esopus area but that few customers had been affected. The storm damage Tuesday afternoon damaged a few scattered transformer fuses in the Saugerties and West Hurley areas. Each such fuse would ordinarily knock out service to a half a dozen, or fewer, customers.

Curiously enough, little rain was reported in the area. The New York Water Department reported only .15 incnes at Brown Station and .12 inches at Schoharie reservoir during the 24-hour period ending at 8 a. m. today.

A NUMBER of people were awakened by thunder this morning, others including Mayor Frederick H. Stang slept through it. "I can sleep in a thunder storm," the mayor laughed, in a reply to a question by a reporter, who, incidentally, also slept through it. Frank Campochiaro, a Kingston attorney, said it woke him up.

Charles Douglas, another Freeman reporter residing in Woodstock, said he had been awakened this morning by the heavy cracking of thunder. There seemed to be two storms over Woodstock, he said, one passing back of Ohayo Mountain, the other in the Overlook Mountain area.

Report on Cigarettes

Washington, June 22 (AP)—The government estimates that about 38 million Americans use cigarettes regularly, with men smokers outnumbering women by almost 2-1.

Strike Nears End

New York, June 22 (AP) — A tanker strike in east and gulf coast ports today apparently neared an end when the number of companies signing with the CIO National Maritime Union rose to 14. These firms operate a total of 144 ships. Still to come to terms with the union are 23 companies owning 49 vessels. The CIO seamen's union early today announced agreement had been reached with the Gulf Oil Corp., which has 30 tankers. The Gulf agreement followed one signed yesterday with the Sinclair Refining Co., first major tanker operator to settle with the union.

Famous Attorney Dies

New York, June 22 (AP)—Lloyd Paul Stryker, one of New York's foremost trial lawyers, who handled the defense at the first trial of Alger Hiss, died yesterday at the age of 70. Stryker was renowned for dramatic and clever courtroom techniques long before he won national attention at the 1949 Hiss trial. In that case he got a hung jury. Regarded as a master of cross-examination, Stryker was the author of several law books. He was born in Chicago and practiced law in New York since 1909.

Mary Donlon Nominated

Washington, June 22 (AP)—President Eisenhower today nominated Mary H. Donlon of New York to be a judge of the U. S. Customs Court. Miss Donlon is a member and former chairman of New York's Workman's Compensation Board. Closely identified with the administration of former Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, she has served on the platform committees of Republican national conventions. She would succeed Genevieve R. Cline, retired.

Urges Time . . .

Molotov was listed as second speaker, following Brig. Gen. Carlos P. Romulo of the Philippines. Romulo also had indicated in advance that he favored a peace declaration, but not a formal resolution.

The QUESTION was: Would Molotov drop his demand for a formal action and agree to the western suggestion for an informal approach. If so, the meeting would continue to reflect the new atmosphere of apparently diminishing tension which was the key note of its opening sessions.

Molotov had talked with numerous delegates since he arrived in San Francisco last Saturday, but had not indicated what other proposals, if any, his speech contained. The western diplomats, however, were as much interested in the tone of the speech as in its content because of the significance it might have in relation to the summit meeting in, Geneva next month.

Only 4 per cent of Brazil's people are over 60 years old.

The answers to everyday insurance problems*
By HERMAN J. EATON

QUESTION: I carry a Personal Articles all risk insurance policy and would like to know if the new set of golf clubs I gave my wife is covered automatically or if I must report it.

ANSWER: There is Automatic coverage for 30 days if you already are insuring any of that class of personal possession. After 30 days the new clubs must be reported to be insured. Excluded from this rule are additions to stamp and coin collections. They are not automatically insured.

* If you'll address your own insurance questions to this office we'll try to give you the correct answers and there will be NO CHARGE or OBLIGATION OF ANY KIND.

Two Challenge Uniform Juries

The constitutionality of the law setting up a uniform jury system in the state has been challenged by two Albany residents, Edward C. Farrington and Helen Garry Burns, a real estate agent and a stenographer, respectively.

Supreme Court Justice Harry E. Schirick has granted an order directing Elizabeth F. Pickney, Albany county commissioner of jurors, and Jacob H. Herzog, county treasurer, to show cause in court why the law should not be declared unconstitutional. That order is returnable before Justice Schirick here at 11 a. m. Thursday. The attorney general will defend the law and Harold Blodget, appears for the petitioners.

Damage Is . . .

cupied six-room frame cottage to the ground in Boiceville about 6 a. m. today may have been ignited by lightning, according to Chief Albert Fox of the Olive Fire Department. This could not be verified, however. (Story on Page 1).

HAIL WAS reported Tuesday afternoon in some parts of the county including Woodstock and the town of Ulster.

"Very little damage was reported by Arthur W. Buddenhagen, public contact supervisor of Central Hudson Gas and Electric Corp.

HE SAID a wire was reported down at 1:38 a. m. today in the Esopus area but that few customers had been affected. The storm damage Tuesday afternoon damaged a few scattered transformer fuses in the Saugerties and West Hurley areas. Each such fuse would ordinarily knock out service to a half a dozen, or fewer, customers.

Curiously enough, little rain was reported in the area. The New York Water Department reported only .15 incnes at Brown Station and .12 inches at Schoharie reservoir during the 24-hour period ending at 8 a. m. today.

A NUMBER of people were awakened by thunder this morning, others including Mayor Frederick H. Stang slept through it. "I can sleep in a thunder storm," the mayor laughed, in a reply to a question by a reporter, who, incidentally, also slept through it. Frank Campochiaro, a Kingston attorney, said it woke him up.

Charles Douglas, another Freeman reporter residing in Woodstock, said he had been awakened this morning by the heavy cracking of thunder. There seemed to be two storms over Woodstock, he said, one passing back of Ohayo Mountain, the other in the Overlook Mountain area.

Strike Nears End

New York, June 22 (AP)—A tanker strike in east and gulf coast ports today apparently neared an end when the number of companies signing with the CIO National Maritime Union rose to 14. These firms operate a total of 144 ships. Still to come to terms with the union are 23 companies owning 49 vessels. The CIO seamen's union early today announced agreement had been reached with the Gulf Oil Corp., which has 30 tankers. The Gulf agreement followed one signed yesterday with the Sinclair Refining Co., first major tanker operator to settle with the union.

Famous Attorney Dies

New York, June 22 (AP)—Lloyd Paul Stryker, one of New York's foremost trial lawyers, who handled the defense at the first trial of Alger Hiss, died yesterday at the age of 70. Stryker was renowned for dramatic and clever courtroom techniques long before he won national attention at the 1949 Hiss trial. In that case he got a hung jury. Regarded as a master of cross-examination, Stryker was the author of several law books. He was born in Chicago and practiced law in New York since 1909.

Mary Donlon Nominated

Washington, June 22 (AP)—President Eisenhower today nominated Mary H. Donlon of New York to be a judge of the U. S. Customs Court. Miss Donlon is a member and former chairman of New York's Workman's Compensation Board. Closely identified with the administration of former Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, she has served on the platform committees of Republican national conventions. She would succeed Genevieve R. Cline, retired.

Now you Know!

The answers to everyday insurance problems*
By HERMAN J. EATON

QUESTION: I carry a Personal Articles all risk insurance policy and would like to know if the new set of golf clubs I gave my wife is covered automatically or if I must report it.

ANSWER: There is Automatic coverage for 30 days if you already are insuring any of that class of personal possession. After 30 days the new clubs must be reported to be insured. Excluded from this rule are additions to stamp and coin collections. They are not automatically insured.

* If you'll address your own insurance questions to this office we'll try to give you the correct answers and there will be NO CHARGE or OBLIGATION OF ANY KIND.

Urges Time . . .

Molotov was listed as second speaker, following Brig. Gen. Carlos P. Romulo of the Philippines. Romulo also had indicated in advance that he favored a peace declaration, but not a formal resolution.

The QUESTION was: Would Molotov drop his demand for a formal action and agree to the western suggestion for an informal approach. If so, the meeting would continue to reflect the new atmosphere of apparently diminishing tension which was the key note of its opening sessions.

Molotov had talked with numerous delegates since he arrived in San Francisco last Saturday, but had not indicated what other proposals, if any, his speech contained. The western diplomats, however, were as much interested in the tone of the speech as in its content because of the significance it might have in relation to the summit meeting in, Geneva next month.
